William J. Dalton, who, according to testimony in the district court this morning, assaulted and rendered half-unconscious Officer Richard J. Goggin while the latter was attempting to arrest him for drunkenness Saturday evening, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction by Judge Wright on the charge. Dalton admitted escaping from Officer Goggin while wearing handcuffs. One of the handcuffs had been applied by the officer, according to testimony, just before Dalton made his getaway with the bracelets dangling from his wrist. Dalton told Judge Wright that he filed the twister off and hung it into the Merrimack river.

Keep a Watch on Your Money; Police Warned of Bogus Cash; Raised Notes Reach Local Banks

Local banks and police officers have been warned to be on the lookout for four new counterfeit federal reserve notes which are said to be in circulation here. The notice sent out recently by the treasury department said that the counterfeit notes include a $50 note on a New York Federal Reserve bank; a $20 note on a Chicago bank; a $10 note on a Kansas City bank and a $5 note on a Chicago bank. The first two were said to be distinguished by blue instead of green backs and the latter two by poor quality of the paper.

The banks in Lowell have taken in several raised notes lately. At one of the institutions several $2 notes were exhibited which had been cleverly raised to the denomination of $5. The persons who raised the notes have not yet been found by the local police.

"SHAKEUP" TO BE SHAKELESS

Mayor Says There Will be no Volcanic Disturbance in Police Department

Executive Spends Long Hours

Listening to Aspirants for Places on Liquor Squad

Mayor Perry D. Thompson plans no "widespread reorganization" of the local police department despite assertions to that effect. The enlargement of his liquor squad will necessitate the rearrangement of a few routes, but there will be no radical "shakeup."

There have been a few open routes in the department for some time and these the mayor plans to fill. He will go to the superannuated list for new officers once he decides on his new liquor and traffic squads and a few of the regular patrolmen will be assigned to new routes.

"However," said the mayor today, "there will be no widespread reorganization. I am not making the changes to punish anybody, but simply to promote the efficiency of the department. Of course, the changes will not please everybody, that's to be expected. But most of the older men of the department need not worry about being sent to the outskirts on the unpopular beats. I am not making any more changes than necessary."

The mayor's time has been taken up almost wholly during the past few days with members of the department or their friends who either want assignments on the liquor squad or do not wish to be transferred from their present beats. However, within a day or two the appointments will be made together with whatever transfers his honor plans.

MAYOR BELIEVES DOUBLE ELECTION POSSIBLE

There is every indication that the municipal council will vote to combine the initiative election on the establishment of a municipal gas plant with the election on the question of accepting or rejecting the new charter now that legal obstacles to the realization of such a plan have seemingly been swept aside. Mayor Thompson, for one, says he sees no reason why the two questions cannot be combined on one ballot, Oct. 18. However, he says that he is but one member of the municipal council and does not wish to dictate its policy.

Three members of the council are out of town and the mayor has not been able to get in touch with them as to their views on the matter. However, unless he meets with objections in the meantime, he will not call a meeting of the council until Sept. 1. By delaying until then it will be legally possible to set the date of the gas

The strange story heard many times during the past few days in the district court, to the effect that unknown men have been passing out free drinks in this city, was again repeated this morning by Fred Miller, charged with drunkenness. "A fellow asked me," said the defendant, "whether I ever took anything to drink. I said I did, and I had three or four drinks of what he called whiskey." "What would you call it?" asked the court. "I'd call it alcohol," responded the defendant.

Syrian Churchman Says Scenes Near Lowell Are "Poetic"

One of the highest dignitaries of the oriental branch of the Catholic church is in Lowell on a visit. He is Maximos Saigh, archbishop of Tyre and one of the most notable churchmen of Syria. He comes to this country and to Lowell on a mission from His Holiness, Pope Benedict XV. His object in coming to the United States is to look after the welfare of the Syrian and Greek Catholics in this country.

During his brief two day stay in this city the archbishop is at the home of Peter Coury, 2 Colwell avenue. Mr. Coury is a member of the church of which the archbishop is one of the leading dignitaries and so when he received tidings that the ecclesiastic was visiting in the neighboring city of Lawrence where he was assisting in raising money for a new church and for several charitable purposes, he journeyed to the downriver city and prevailed upon him to accept of the invitation.

Officials engaged in framing the treaty and those who had been taken into their confidence were reticent as to the details of the document. Immediate resumption of diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States was to be provided for, but it was understood that matters relating to commercial, economic and financial affairs were to be settled in supplementary agreements.

His scruples, however, did not prevent him from contracting an internal "bun" as well, according to the testimony of the arresting officer. ## Will Contest 'Reveals Millionaire's Remarkable Romance

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24.—You cannot cheat the conventions!

You may succeed for a long time, but in the end you must pay! This is the lesson to be learned from the double life led by Eli Hills Larkin, the late millionaire chemist whose will is being contested. This will left approximately $1,000,000 to charity.

Larkin, up to the time of his death, was believed by most of his business associates, and by the public generally, to be a bachelor who found more pleasure in unscientific philanthropy and scientific work than in society.

But a deposition filed in the will contest shows that for 40 years he had lived as the common law husband of Mrs. Harriet Reyle Thompson, under the name of H. B. Thompson.

The conventions, however, did not wait until Larkin and Mrs. Thompson were dead before collecting. They took their toll in shame, ostracism, fear, sorrow, heartache and heart-break while the couple lived.

Money and kindness erected a shield for them, but the shield proved vulnerable.

Shame

Larkin and Mrs. Thompson—then a mere girl—slipped into St. Louis about 40 years ago. Pictures taken in her girlhood show a plump, rather small and not very pretty girl, with eyes that were extremely shy and retiring. He is believed to have met her in England, when he was about 15—on or about it was in New Orleans. Why he didn't marry her then none knows. But he slipped her into an unpretentious home, concealed her further under an assumed name, and visited her warily—under cover of the distinction of a large city.

Outcastism

While Larkin, the chemist, won renown by his discoveries, inventions and business ability, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were self-estranged. The community just set them down as a neighbors just set them down as a quiet couple, who bothered nobody and didn't seem to want to be bothered.

They didn't seem like especially approachable people—and none questioned where Mr. Thompson worked, or what he earned, or how he spent it. And Mrs. Thompson seemed to live only for her husband. Thus for 25 years.

Sorrow

Finally Larkin could hold his secret no longer. He was a man with religious instincts, although not a church member. As an instance, he bequeathed $10,000 to Christ Church Cathedral.

To his relatives, and to some of his most intimate friends, he confided the story of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson. He wanted to do the right thing, but how could he now?

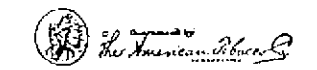

His mother, with tears in her eyes, urged him to marry this woman who had given him all. But Larkin demurred. He said that at this late day Mrs. Thompson felt a ceremony would embarrass her.

Desire

The dread of "What would people say?" was always with the Thompsons—especially Mrs. Thompson. And

Cigarette
It's Toasted

The man was always ready to shield the woman whose only real shield—the conventions—he had swept away. They moved to a better house, kept a few servants, and entertained Larkin's relatives occasionally—for these relatives were sympathetic and forgiving.

More and more Larkin devoted himself entirely to Mrs. Thompson—he had no sport, no relaxation save reading, did not own an automobile till a few months before his death.

Fear

As she grew older, one fear grew great in the heart of Mrs. Thompson—that Larkin would die and she would be thrust out upon the world, alone, unable to support herself, a pauper.

When this dawned upon Larkin, he took immediate steps to set her mind easy. He put $150,000 in trust for her and gave her $50,000 in cash.

Heartache

Always, too, was this heartache burning in Mrs. Thompson's bosom—as she grew older, would Larkin tire of her and turn to another? "Believe," he said to her one day in the presence of a relative, "am I not growing older, too?"

"You and I, growing older together, are just the same age as we were—well, it doesn't seem so long ago, does it?"

Heartbreak

Finally death entered the house of the Thompsons. Mrs. Thompson was the first to go. Not long afterward, Larkin was found dead in bed—"dead of a broken heart," said a relative.

Memory

They lie together, side by side, in graves in the Larkin burial ground. And there they would have rested, without the world knowing their story, if it hadn't been that money—the money that was once so strong a part of their defense—led in a suit to break Larkin's will.

Their story now is written in the public records of St. Louis.

Add to 2 cups of granulated sugar 1/2 cup of milk. Bring to boil. Boil 5 minutes. Remove from fire. Put in pan of cold water and stir rapidly until substance begins to cream. Shape as desired with your hands, and put nuts on top. Or roll into balls and dip in melted chocolate. If this is alternated with layers of dates, figs or nuts and then cut in squares it makes a very fine candy.

Adventures of the Twins

THE BLUE MOUNTAIN

WALLY AND MRS. WOODCHUCK CLIMBED AND CLIMBED AND CLIMBED

By the time Wally Woodchuck and his wife reached the blue mountain (it was a brown mountain now) they hadn't had a drink of water for I don't know how long. Mr. Sprinkle-Blow on his magic umbrella and Nancy and Nick in their magic Green Shoes, felt so sorry for them that the fairy weatherman said, "I think I'll just ride up to the sky and turn the spigot on my barrel or 'Nico Warm Rain.' That wouldn't make it very muddy for Wally and his wife, and it would certainly give them a drink. I didn't think when I promised them dry weather on their vacation that they would need so many drinks. But I might have known. Wally is the greatest drinker in all Meadow-Grove Land or Whispering Forest."

But just as he was about to start away, Wally looked at the sky again and said, "My, I hope it doesn't rain until our vacation is over. It's had enough to be thirsty without having to trudge through mud!"

So Sprinkle-Blow didn't go.

Well, Wally and Mrs. Woodchuck climbed and climbed up the brown mountain. They had discovered, of course, by this time that it was not chocolate cake, or any other kind of cake that the mountain was made of, but they had Sprinkle-Blow's word for it that the white stuff was frosting. They weren't so hungry for the frosting by this time, however, having their minds on being so thirsty. But you know how it is, when one gets his mind on having a vacation and getting somewhere in particular, he's going to have it and get it. That's the way it is. People plan and plan and think they have to have their own way. Then they're not happy when they get it after all.

DRIED FRUIT IS SATISFACTORY TO USE

BY SISTER MARY

Dry the surplus of your garden and orchard. Dried fruits and vegetables are very satisfactory to use and they keep without risk. A cup of dried food will go almost twice as far as a cup of the same thing canned.

The driers may be made at home or bought. The simpler the construction the better. Trays with perforated bottoms can be made or purchased to fit the oven, or a large frame the size of the top of the cook stove can be made. Stretch strong screening covered with coarse cheesecloth over the frame and suspend from the ceiling over the stove by means of pulleys. The frame can be raised or lowered according to the heat.

All vegetables should be blanched before drying. This makes them perfectly clean and induces even evaporation.

Dried Lima Beans
Wash and string beans carefully. Cut in inch lengths. Put in a cheesecloth bag and dip in boiling water for ten minutes. Drain and dry between towels. Spread in a thin layer on the drier and dry about five hours, increasing the heat gradually. Stir occasionally.

Dried Celery Leaves
Wash the leaves and dry between towels. Put on drier and dry three hours. These are most convenient for use in soups.

While all vegetables may be dried those that will keep through the winter are carefully stored in the cellar should be stored and kept without drying if space permits. Carrots, parsnips, celery, onions, leeks, turnips and beets keep for winter use without drying or canning.

Dried Apples
Pare, core and slice the apples. Drop in cold, slightly salted water to prevent the fruit from turning dark. Drain and dry between towels. Spread on tray and dry until it is impossible to press water from the fruit. Increase the heat gradually.

Dried Peas
Wash peas and put in cheesecloth bag. Dip in boiling water for ten minutes. Dip in cold water, pare, core and cut in rings. Drop in cold,

CAN FIRE TORPEDOES AROUND A CORNER

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A new system of torpedo fire control, by which the firing of torpedoes in a curved course is automatically controlled, has been perfected by John Hays Hammond, Jr., he announced yesterday.

By means of this system, he said, a battleship or submarine could fire a torpedo at a target in any direction without changing the course of the vessel. Submarines equipped with the system could attack two targets at the same time.

Nearly a per cent. of the surfaced vessels in the United States are of concrete.

INSTITUTE OF POLITICS

Norman H. Davis, former Under Secretary of State Talks on "Reparations"

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 24.—"It is idle to talk of the economic rehabilitation of Europe until political stability has been achieved," Norman H. Davis, former under secretary of state, asserted at the Institute of Politics today when he made his formal address to the round table conference on "Reparations." Uncertainty about reparations continues, he said, at the heart of the world's present difficulties.

"If the political difficulties of Europe adjust themselves so that this problem can be solved the rest will be easy. What is needed now is political agreement. All financial and commercial projects in Europe are being held up by this uncertainty. Throughout the history of the world the development of commerce and industry has always followed political stability, and indeed," he continued, "it can never follow upon anything else."

"We have all learned that our own welfare is pretty closely tied up with the restoration of normal financial and commercial conditions in Europe, just as we might like to avoid concern in the political tangles across the seas. I am convinced that it will in practice prove impossible to separate them. Our present financial condition is very largely due to the inability of the rest of the world to find money to buy our goods. But it is idle to talk of the economic rehabilitation of Europe until political stability has been achieved."

Escapes From Police

along Suffolk street in the company of two soldiers. Foul language was being used, according to the officer, who sought to take Dalton into custody after the latter addressed him in an opprobrious manner upon being advised to go home. When one of the men had been put on, according to Officer Goggin, he was kicked in the groin by Dalton and became semi-conscious as the latter ran away. Louis Pappas, who was seated at a sidewalk table at a nearby coffee house, corroborated the officer's testimony. He saw Dalton kicking Goggin, he declared. Goggin said that Dalton asserted that he came back to Lowell to kill him.

There were three complaints against the defendant, who was charged with drunkenness and assault on Saturday, and with drunkenness on the 23rd when he was taken into custody. He was found guilty on all counts, but the drunkenness complaints were placed on file. According to court records, Dalton was in during 1919 for assault on an officer.

USE NEW METHOD FOR REPAIRING STREETS

A new method of filling in holes in Lowell streets which is proving much more satisfactory than the old method of using crushed stone is being employed under the direction of Henry J. Bowers, superintendent of streets. The new method consists of filling in holes with a tar cold patch instead of dumping crushed stone in the cavity. The tar is proving a much more permanent filler. When the old method was used, the passing of a few vehicles over the part of the street that had been filled in would result in the scattering of the stones in every direction.

START SEASON'S SECOND BIG PAVING JOB

The second big paving job of the present season has just been started by the street department. Workmen have begun to tear up Chelmsford street between Westford and Grand streets preparatory to the laying of smooth pavement there. The Thorndike street job which was started early in the summer is practically completed, according to Supt. Henry J. Bowers, and within a day or two the pavers will transfer their attention to Chelmsford street. It is planned to lay 1000 square yards of smooth paving in the latter thoroughfare.

The dead are Douglas Armstrong, engineer, Grand Junction, and a man named Fairfield, believed to be a resident of California.

REFERENDUM ON MOVIE CENSORSHIP

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The question of motion picture censorship in Massachusetts will be decided by the voters at the state election in 1922. Yesterday the Allied Theatres' association, with 50,000 names of qualified voters, filed with the secretary of state for a referendum. The result of the vote is expected after the election on Nov. 7, 1922. After checking off about 15,000 names the secretary's office decided that there was nothing to prevent the question from being placed on the ballot next year.

This year's legislature passed a bill to provide for a motion picture censorship, beginning January 1, 1922. The filing of the referendum petition prevents the law from becoming operative until it has been acted upon by the voters.

Joseph J. Glancy, representing the motion picture interests carried the names of the state house yesterday.

FATHER OF 9 CHILDREN IS FOUND GUILTY

Melvin A. E. Graham, father of nine children, only two of whom are living, was found guilty of non support of his wife and two surviving little ones in the district court this morning. He was sentenced to three months in the house of correction and appealed. He contended that his wife was unduly friendly with another man.

Double Election Possible

election for Oct. 13. As far as the mayor is aware, there is no pressing business which would prevent him from attending to a week from tomorrow. Chairman Hugh C. McOsker of the board of election commissioners when queried on the matter this morning, said that the date of the election was immaterial as it is up to the municipal council to say when the election will be held. The commission will simply follow the instructions it receives from "upstairs," as Mr. McOsker put it.

Probably the strongest opponents of the double election plan will be the city precinct officers. By combining both elections these officers will receive but one day's pay, whereas if separate elections were held they would be entitled to compensation for two days. Incidentally, they point out that if it were not for special elections this year would be particularly frugal for the precinct officials inasmuch as there would be no state primaries and no state election.

In 1920 there were five elections—the presidential primaries in April, the state primaries in September, state election and city primaries in November, and city election in December. This year there would be three elections which would be but four—the paving election which was held this month, the combined gas and charter election due in October, and the city primaries and city election which will come in November and December.

Plain Ballot in September

to wit: To prevent the railroads from asking for further decreases in wages following the 12 1/2 per cent. reduction handed down by the railroad labor board at Chicago June 1, and now in effect. It is understood that the ballot tells the union members of the unsatisfactory negotiations held in the past few months between the railroad chiefs and railroad managers who have been claiming to be seeking to eliminate time and a half for overtime, and the union men are asked if they are satisfied to continue work under these conditions.

DEFENDS MATE IN SPITE SUIT

MR. AND MRS. H. J. TOUSSAINT

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, Aug. 24.—Henry John Toussaint shot and killed his father, formerly a Washington, D. C. hotelkeeper, in Wichita Falls.

A month before, he had sued his wife for divorce. And yet this wife rushed to his assistance when he was brought to trial for murder.

Toussaint confessed the killing, entering a plea of insanity. His wife took the stand on her own accord and testified that she honestly and sincerely believed that her husband was insane at the time.

Her pleading, however, accomplished nothing. Toussaint was sentenced to be hanged—the first white man to draw the death penalty in the history of Wichita county.

GOMPERS WOULD APPEAL CHILD LABOR RULING

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 24.—A statement urging congress to rectify what was described as the wrong done by the decision of Federal Judge James M. Boyd Monday at Greensboro, N. C. in declaring the Owen-Keating child labor law unconstitutional, was made public here yesterday by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

"The decision should be appealed to the highest court of our land," said the statement, "and it is to be strongly hoped that the United States supreme court will remove the blench which Judge Boyd has put upon the judiciary of our land and prevent the judiciary of our land from falling into grasping and greedy hands of exploiters, and from grinding their bones into profits."

The statement, which was given out by Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, said that organized labor "cannot help but enter its protest, not only against the unwarrantable intervention by the judiciary of the rights of congress in expressing the will of the people, but in this special instance against the legislation which every intelligent, patriotic and humanely loving citizen holds to be justifiable and essential."

"Nowhere in the constitution of the United States is there vested in the judiciary the right to declare unconstitutional a law passed by the congress of the United States and approved by the president, or if vetoed by the president, passed over his veto by a two-thirds vote of the house and senate."

"Some day, and may it be soon, the people and the citizenship of our country will demand from congress, and congress will heed the mandate to restore the sovereign rights of the congress of the United States to enact legislation and deny to the judicial branch of the government the right to annul or violate legislation for the protection of the rights and interests and the promotion of the welfare of the people of our country."

The council also asked that steps be taken "to bring the judiciary within the folds of its component, and not dominating, part of the government of our republic."

LIQUOR SHIPMENTS CANNOT BE STOPPED

DETROIT, Aug. 24.—United States District Judge Tuttle here yesterday made permanent a temporary injunction granted two weeks ago restraining United States customs and internal revenue officials from interfering with shipments of whiskey from Canada through the United States to destinations in foreign countries.

Suit was brought by Hiram Walker & Sons, Ltd., after customs officials in Detroit had seized a shipment of liquor shipped through this port en route to Mexico.

"Round-up" on So. Common

Edward Carey was freed on condition that he leave Lowell at once. He bails from Laconia, N. H. George Reagan drew one month. He appealed, but later decided to accept his sentence. He pleaded not guilty, and denied taking a single drink yesterday. He was asked if he remembered being in once before before during the present month, and also during February. He recalled the former instance, but couldn't remember the February misfortune, he said.

"I don't keep much track of these matters," he remarked. He has been in 16 times in all, according to the probation officer. "Were you sent to the hospital on one occasion after drinking wood alcohol?" he was also queried. "Well, yes, I did fall one time," he returned.

Roger Riley made his bow for the second time within a few days. He came here a short time ago from Manchester, N. H., with a roll of $120, the police said, and on pleasure bent. He got the pleasure, but was

TWO WOMEN FACE INTOXICATION CHARGES

Two women were among the alleged drunks in the district court this morning. One, who has been in the toils of the law many a time and oft before, it is claimed, drew a three months' suspended sentence, while her companion had her case placed on file as a first offender. Both women were engaged in, hostilities when taken into custody, according to Officer William L. Keegan, who made the arrests.

Syrian Churchman

Continued
cept the hospitality of his house in Lowell for a few days.

Messing Personality

The archbishop is of a vivacious and pleasing personality. He is of middle age and the cares of his high office have not apparently removed from him the joy of living or a keen interest in all human affairs. He does not speak English freely. He can understand fragments of the language and he reads it fluently but he confesses that he is completely at sea when an American tries to talk to him. The difficulty is partly eliminated, however, by the presence of Rev. Fr. Peter Abourzeid, a member of the archbishop's retinue, who in the four months that he has been in this country has mastered the language and is now able to act as interpreter to the archbishop.

In Interviewed

When interviewed by The Sun reporter, the archbishop expressed delight with all things American and especially with our form of government. "The American people are a great and remarkable nation," he said, "and their government is typical of them. It is my opinion that a democracy is the best government. I believe that you Americans have approached very near perfection on working out your present form of government."

The churchman was very enthusiastic in outlining his impressions of Lowell. "Poetic" was the word he used in describing the scenes that met his eyes as he came over the road from Lawrence in his automobile. The combination of the beautiful Merrimack river and the terraced embankment on the Belvidere side of the stream impressed him as one of the most beautiful scenes that has struck his eye in his travels. However, like most people who come over the road from Lawrence, the archbishop had one suggestion to offer. He intimated that his poetic impression of the city was marred by the holes in First street. With the exception of that one defect, however, his idea of Lowell is a good one and he says that he will carry away with him a very happy impression of this city.

Approves of Newspapers

The archbishop expressed approval of American newspapers. "The American press," he said, "is the best in the world. It conveys much useful and interesting information to the people and it must indeed be a great factor in the educational system of the country. The editorials appearing in the dailies of the country impress me as some of the sanest and wisest expressions of opinion that I have read. No wonder that this nation is so great and powerful when it has such wise and good men at the head of its newspapers."

Conditions in Syria, according to the archbishop, are better than they have been for many years. The Turks have been finally and definitely expelled from the country and under French rule things are rapidly getting back to a normal basis. A few years ago, however, the state of affairs in the country was a sad example of the inhumanity of the Turk.

Persecuted Christians

"One year ago," he said, "conditions in my poor country were very bad. The Mohammedans persecuted the Christians with all the fury of fiends. They destroyed whole villages, sacked cities and put men, women and children to the sword. It was with a feeling of the greatest joy that we saw the French troops march into the country and, step by step, repulse Prince Faisal and his cowardly hordes of Turks. Since the occupation of the country by the French army, the work of breathing freely again and I begin to hope for the day when Syria will be strong and powerful, as she was centuries ago."

The archbishop has had many amusing experiences in attempting to learn to speak English. "I would like, you to tell me," he said last evening, "why the Americans and Englishmen pronounce their words so differently than they are spelled. It 'enough' is pronounced 'enuff,' then why isn't 'although' pronounced 'althuff?' When it was explained to him that he had broached a question which has troubled students of English for many hundreds of years he merely smiled and said the English is a very "funny" language."

Came in April

The churchman came to this country last April as the result of a commission entrusted to him by His Holiness the Pope and since his arrival he has spent the time in an extensive tour to all parts of the country. He has visited many cities, including New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Washington, Detroit, Toledo, Akron, Utica, Manchester and Lawrence.

Last evening a dinner and reception was tendered him at the home of Mr. Courty in Colwell street. Large numbers of the city to receive the archbishop's blessing and to hear him tell of conditions in Syria. Many little children were among the visitors and he received them all with a pat on the head and a kindly word which sent them away radiant with happiness.

Rev. Fr. Peter Abourzeid, B. S., has accompanied the archbishop on his tour of the country, acting as his secretary and interpreter. The archbishop's father is connected with the diocese of Tyre and is one of the archbishop's lifelong friends and companions.

FOR RUSSIAN RELIEF PUNISHMENT OF SEN. REED TO BE SOUGHT

Plans for Co-ordination of Children's Organizations With Relief Association

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Plans for the co-ordination of the children's relief organizations interested in Russian relief with the American Relief association were discussed today at a meeting of the European relief council with Secretary Hoover and Col. Wm. M. Haskell, who is to have charge of food distribution in Russia.

The organizations comprising the council are the American Friends' service committee, which is already at work in Russia, American Red Cross, Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, Jewish Joint Distribution committee, Knights of Columbus, Young Men's Christian association, Catholic Welfare committee and the American Relief administration.

They were asked by President Harding to co-operate under the relief administration in the work of fighting famine among the children of Russia in order that the interests of the people of both this country and Russia could be served through centralized activities and to avoid the organization of unnecessary associations for the solicitation of funds.

Colonel Haskell said today that he planned to call from New York for Liverpool early next week and to proceed to Russia as quickly as possible after a conference in England with Walter Lyman Brown, European director of the administration, who negotiated the relief agreement with the soviet authorities at Riga.

At the start, he declared, the administration intends to feed one million Russian children, and this number would be increased as facilities and supplies are available. All the work, he said, would be under the direction of Secretary Hoover and the New York headquarters of the administration.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The senate was requested yesterday in a resolution adopted by the house by a vote of 151 to 3, "to take appropriate action" concerning remarks of Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, during debate on the anti-beer bill last week, which the house held were "improper, unpatriotic and a reflection on the character" of Representative Volstead, republican.

It is the first time in history, so far as official records show, that the house has taken such action. On two previous occasions, however, it ceased a representative for making unpatriotic remarks about senators and senators. In both incidents the offending remarks were eliminated from the Congressional Record by a house vote.

The resolution, which was offered by Representative Newton, republican, Minnesota, was adopted after brief debate, and was referred to the rules committee when it reached the senate.

Mr. Reed made no comment concerning it.

Senator Reed's language, as printed in the Congressional Record, follows: "Until the other day I never had the pleasure of seeing the distinguished author of the anti-beer act. His biography states that he was born in the United States. I am, however, informed he speaks a very broken English. I do not know what his ancestry may be, but I do know that I have gazed upon pictures of the celebrated conspirators of the past, the counterfeits of those who have led in fanaticism, the executioners who applied the torch of persecution, and I saw them all again when I looked at the author of this bill."

"I have no respect for a man, whether he be a member of the house or elsewhere, who proposes to whitewash the constitution of the United States, who tries to leave it, so that an officer can go into every building or elsewhere, who puts the discovery of a bottle of beer above the constitution, who, in the pursuit of his favorite pastime of hunting somebody who may take a drink, is willing to destroy that constitution which he held up his hand and before Almighty

NEAR END OF STRIKES IN MASSACHUSETTS

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—An almost complete cessation of strikes in this state is noted by the state department of labor and industries. In a bulletin issued today.

During the month of August, the bulletin shows, there have been but eight strikes, and of these only one involved more than 100 employees. Last month there were nine strikes, and in August, 1920, there were eighteen. "The surplus of labor," the department says, "makes it unlikely to take definite strike action at this time."

Reports received by the department from building department officials in 33 cities show that the aggregate value of buildings for which permits were issued during July was $7,450,355, a slight decrease from the June figure of $7,755,141. There were increases in July over June, in fourteen of the cities, none of which were large except in the case of Northampton. The decreases in other cities were small except in Pittsfield, Springfield and Worcester. Springfield showed the second largest decrease from $734,955 to $479,465. Worcester's drop was from $1,837,192 to $1,290,845.

NO REASONS GIVEN FOR RESIGNATIONS

A surprise came to members of local military circles last evening when it was asserted that Lieut. John J. Walsh and Emmons Savage had resigned from their posts in Battery B. It was also stated that Lieut. William Soucie had relinquished his command in the combat train. No reasons have been given for the resignations.

At their meeting, the non-commissioned officers voted to stress the need for installing drill grounds in this city if the local authorities wish to keep the battery here.

When gears are not fully engaged, they slip, gear teeth become worn and shaft bearings need adjustment.

Rogers Hall Girls Will Find School Home Changed After Vacation

NEW ADDITION TO ROGERS HALL SCHOOL

3 COL CUT—HD TO COME

The new addition to the Rogers Hall school, planned more than a year ago to meet the fast growing demands for additional accommodations at the noted girls' school, is fast nearing completion and the school authorities are hopeful that when the school re-opens on Oct. 5 the addition will be ready for occupancy.

Practically all of the exterior work on the structure has been completed and workmen are now engaged in interior finishing. The new addition, which was designed by Crain & Ferguson of Boston, is a harmonious continuation of the style of the other stately buildings which make up the school group, even to the lofty white pillars at the entrance. So skillfully has the work been done that a stranger would never know that the addition had not always been a part of the main building.

The new structure faces Fort Hill avenue with one side of it clearly observable through an opening in the trees on the Rogers street side of the school grounds. It is two and a half stories high, measuring some 35 feet from ground to roof. It is built on a concrete foundation. The building is of wooden construction and is 63 feet and 3 inches long and 26 feet, 3 inches wide.

The builder was James Whitte of this city. The approximate cost was $450,000.

The new building is designed to provide a dining room, kitchen and sleeping rooms and will thus allow more room in the other buildings for school work and dormitories. The addition is the second structure to be added to the school group within recent years as it was but a short time ago that the school's beautiful gymnasium was dedicated.

The constant growth of the school, which is now known from one end of the country to the other and which has numbered every state of the Union in its student body, has necessitated the erection of the addition about to be completed.

ZR-2 Driven From Course by Storm

PULHAM, England, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—The giant dirigible ZR-2, which was expected to arrive here at dawn and complete the trial trip begun yesterday morning at Howden, was apparently driven from her course by a terrific electrical and rain storm early this morning. The airship, however, reported herself safe off Howden shortly after 8 o'clock. It is not expected here that the dirigible will start for America before August 30, at least.

Greeks Continue Advance in Asia Minor

ATHENS, Aug. 24.—Greek operations against the Turkish nationalists in Asia Minor will be completed within a month, at the present rate of progress, declared M. Theodoris, minister of war, in talking with newsmen here last night. He asserted that the Turkish forces opposing the Greeks might be estimated to number about 60,000. The minister said the Greeks intended to go to Angora, but did not plan to remain there, the object of taking the capital of the Turkish nationalists being to secure guarantees against any action which would violate decisions reached by the entente powers.

W. C. T. U. ENDS CONVENTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Atlantic City was chosen as the meeting place for 1922 convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union in the convention which closed here last night.

Mrs. Anna Gordon, national head of the organization, was given the additional title of world's president of the W. C. T. U.

In the last fiscal year the United States received $100,000,000 in automobile taxes.

Chief Livingston of the Billerica police was notified of the find, and in turn reported to the Medford authorities, who removed the safe to police headquarters in that town. From indications in the underground, an auto truck was evidently the means of conveyance used by the robbers.

American automobile manufacturers want the 45 per cent. income duty reduced to 30 per cent.

STOLEN SAFE FOUND IN BILLERICA WOODS

Rifted of its contents, a safe supposed to be the one stolen Friday night from the Ginter Grocery company store at Medford, was discovered in the Billerica woods. An employee of the Alexander farm, on the premises of which the safe had been placed, made the discovery yesterday evening. The bottom had been smashed in and everything save a few worthless papers had been abstracted. Money and valuable documents were removed.

Chief Livingston of the Billerica police was notified of the find, and in turn reported to the Medford authorities, who removed the safe to police headquarters in that town. From indications in the underground, an auto truck was evidently the means of conveyance used by the robbers.

TO COMPLETE DRAFT OF R. R. STRIKE BALLOT

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—The chief executives of the five big railroad transportation labor organizations resumed their conference here this morning with members of British executive committees and assistant grand officers in an effort to complete the draft of a strike ballot to be presented to the 400,000 active members throughout the country. The ballot probably will be mailed early next week for a referendum vote.

Decision to draft the strike ballot resulted from unsatisfactory negotiations held in the past few months between the chiefs and railroad managers following the recent 12½ per cent cut in wages by the United States Railway labor board.

THE SUPREMACY OF LAW

Occasionally it happens that a number of heinous crimes occur about the same time and in the same state or district so as to suggest the existence of a crime wave, a period of lawlessness when day after day the people are shocked by reports of highway robberies, criminal assaults, abductions, and homicides. It is not often that such a condition is found in Massachusetts, but within the past few weeks so many crimes of this nature have occurred, that the people have been deeply stirred, and some of the most quiet communities of the commonwealth have shown unmistakable signs of indignation, if not of a spirit of vengeance, that at least in one case, threatened summary punishment upon the culprits captured by the police.

This was the case at Wareham, where a crowd some hundreds strong, gathered at the local jail and threatened to lynch one of the Cape Verde men arrested for the hold-up of William O. Eldredge and a young lady companion, the robbery of Eldredge and criminal assault upon the girl. As both were well known and highly respected in the locality in which they resided, it was no wonder that indignation ran high; but apparently it exceeded the usual bounds in such demonstrations when the crowd threatened to lynch one of the prisoners. Such a crime as that is liable to occur almost anywhere at anytime and hence it does not bring any special disgrace upon the town, city or state in which it occurs. But as to a lynching in old, tried, law-abiding Massachusetts, that would stamp an everlasting stain upon the escutcheon of the old Bay State.

A few highwaymen may come in here and conspire to commit a foul crime in defiance of law; but for any body of citizens to combine to take the law into their own hands, for the punishment of the criminals—that would stand as a lasting disgrace to the community and state in which it occurred; and if in Massachusetts far more of a disgrace to the entire nation than would be a lynching in some southern state. It was not surprising, therefore, that Governor Cox as soon as he found any sign of such a mob sentiment, hastened to issue a proclamation rebuking the demonstration as more dangerous to society and the supremacy of law than the crime for which it threatened summary vengeance.

lynchings are unfortunately numerous, chiefly in the southern states. There were 83 cases of lynching in 1919, with 145 in 1912 and 86 in 1908. That is a black record which stands as a disgrace to our government in the eyes of other nations, some of which do not understand the conditions that obtain in the south and believe that the same disregard of law prevails all over the land. It would indeed be a cause of utter ignominy to every patriotic and law-abiding citizen of Massachusetts if our state were included in the category of the lynching states, where prisoners are taken from the jails by furious mobs and strung up by the neck, riddled with bullets or still worse, as has occurred within the past year, burned to death in the centre of a bonfire.

In each and every case of this kind, the supremacy of law is overthrown, and the will of the mob is the only law; but the Massachusetts spirit, as evidenced in the governor's proclamation in the Wareham case, is above such barbarities no matter how great the provocation. Even among states, the force of example has a potent influence for good or evil, and if Massachusetts had a lynching it would not be long before some other northern state would experience a similar lapse to mob rule.

In Massachusetts, the administration of justice may be slow as it is in most states; but when an atrocious crime such as that which stirred the people of Wareham, is brought before the bar of justice, the machinery of the courts is usually accelerated and the majesty of the law is promptly asserted. We had an example of this here in Lowell in the fallen murder. So it is, therefore, that not even the law's delays nor any miscarriage of justice can justify mob rule or the spirit that would prompt the people to take the law into their own hands. In the grand old Bay State especially, it is important that at all times, in all places and under all circumstances, the supremacy of the law be everywhere asserted, upheld and maintained.

STARVING RUSSIA

In the Russia of today, there is an example of the lack of capital. When the Bolshevik leaders overthrew the government which succeeded that of the czar, they wreaked particular vengeance upon what they termed the Bourgeoisie class, or the people who were supposed to have accumulated more or less wealth. They were plundered and many of them were also murdered; but now the leaders have the money and probably realize their error, for the reason that the capitalists who formerly conducted the railroads and most of the manufacturing enterprises of the country, have been banished or slain, and there is nobody fitted to take up the work which they had in hand. As a result, a large portion of Russia is face to face with starvation and has little or no prospect of permanent relief. The United States has agreed to send food to Russia for the purpose of relieving the people who are said to be dying of starvation in large numbers and if possible for the purpose of saving the millions who, unless relief comes, must perish of hunger during the coming winter. It will take two or three years more perhaps to convince the people of Russia that they have been following the false leaders and that they have been led into a wilderness, so to speak, from which it will be very difficult to emerge. The other powers have decided that it is best not to attempt any form of intervention for the reason that the Bolshevik leaders never appear so favorably before the people as when leading them against a supposed enemy and particularly against some foreign power supposed to have selfish designs upon Russian territory. It is deplorable that such a vast nation should be so deluded by supposed reformers who promised that freedom would bring peace, prosperity and happiness. On the contrary the bread of freedom offered by Trotsky and Lenin has brought only bloodshed, rapine, starvation and a state of anarchy from which the people are helpless to free themselves. All this is but the direct result of following socialist leaders whose dream of a social paradise has been the delusion of thousands of people, as on trial it has always brought disappointment and misery. Russia is now cleared of capitalists, socialism is applied without any restriction and the whole world can see the result.

OUR PEACE TREATY

There is much story in reference to the negotiations of a peace treaty with Germany. Only a few details in other country know anything about negotiations. The aim seems to be to secure from Germany a treaty that will serve the same purpose as the Versailles treaty and yet fall to give that treaty any sanction or endorsement. The fact that we have already declared that the state of war between this nation and Germany no longer exists, will put us in the position of a collector who calls upon a creditor for payment after he has sent the latter a receipted bill. The matter of damages for the Lusitania outrage has been broached to even-tania outrage has been broached to even-

Germany, but for this she disavows responsibility as she did for precipitating the world war. In her negotiations with the United States it is well known that she is anxious to find Germany disavowing various acts of aggression and damage on land and sea for which she admits responsibility in the Versailles treaty; but in that case she was compelled to sign whether she liked it or not, while in dealing with the United States at the present time, she will yield no point against her will; and the United States can exercise no compulsion upon her except that of refusing to resume diplomatic relations and to restore peace conditions. It is certainly an almost unprecedented method of negotiating a peace treaty, but today's despatches indicate that some form of peace treaty has been agreed upon between the two nations. The next step will be consideration by the American senate where the republican majority will probably ratify it promptly as an administrative measure.

STREET REPAIRS

Now's the time to get some of our worst streets put in proper condition. The defeat of the paving-by-contract proposition does not mean that extravagant methods are endorsed or led to be continued. On the contrary, it will be very difficult to get the street work of any kind and street paving in particular, could be done as cheaply in Lowell as anywhere. Certainly it can, and that is why the people cannot understand why it should cost so much more here than elsewhere. The taxpayers of Lowell want to see a fair return for the money expended whether in the street department or in any other.

If Supt. Bowers gets a free hand, he will show results, but if he has to deal with delays of green men, he can accomplish nothing except at an exorbitant cost. There is an open rupture between Costa Rica and Panama on the settlement of a boundary dispute. Uncle Sam is down there to prevent the two states from getting into a fight. For Uncle Sam it is like preventing two school boys from punching each other, and yet an occurrence less important than the pretext for launching the world war. We cannot afford to start a war on this continent while we have projected a movement for disarmament.

If by holding off on its meetings, the municipal council can stave off the special election on the initiative game which will be held on October 15, the day when the people will vote on the next charter, it will save the city at least $10,000. By some it is feared that this may endanger the adoption of the charter; but the electorate should have no difficulty in passing upon the two questions at the same time. If Hoover saves Russian millions from starvation, the soviet maniacs will give the credit to the Trotsky regime which caused the famine conditions. We how to the Lowell district court and hope it will be recognized as a model of its kind in dealing out even-handed justice to all comers.

And father goes to church. To take a little dose. While sister goes to show her clothes. And smir at all her beauty.—Small Pinks.

And brother William goes along. All dolled up in dolled up in dolled up. He doesn't sleep or watch the clock. He goes because his sweetie goes.—Lewiston Journal.

Perhaps John D. Rockefeller goes. Because it gives him pleasure great. To show his generosity. And put a nickel on the plate.—Courier.

Cowardice
"The Hare and the Frog," one of the screened fables of Aesop, points a moral in an amusing way. The hare is a coward, afraid of his own shadow. He shuns other animals of the field. Frogs startle him. He is about to flee when he is suddenly inspired with bravery. He turns upon them. Surprised they flee. He is given chase and is about to catch them when they come to a place that allows them to continue no farther. The frogs turn to face their pursuer. The rabbit is surprised. His cowardice returns. He turns tail and runs away.

That's the way with many of us human cowards. We try to bluff and when our bluff is called, we meekly surrender.

Unrequited
"Twas summer-time, and earth from her wardrobe lent Her choicest garb, and as I went Toward the old barred gate, the trusting place, I saw once more the form and face Of her I loved so well, when as a boy, Life and for me an untold joy. Until that day when she her plighted word Broke faith with me, and plunged the sword Deep into the vitals of my heart. With words which rent my liver apart. I pleaded, stormed, beseeched again, But all my efforts were in vain. She went away to parts unknown, And I— I was left alone. Nor found I one to take her place, As ere long years had passed in space, And faltering steps still found me as a youth enticed. The faithful lover who had kept his trust Until the end, and despite a sickle fate, Worshipping anew at the old barred gate. For hope to whom no shattered dreams are given, Bids faith live on, we'll meet again, so be it, heaven!"—Bernard D. Ward.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

"I hate to send a man away," Judge Enright, of the local police court said to me one morning after the session was over and he had decided to suspend the defendant, and give the chap one more chance. All judges have not this humanitarian attitude; it is to be feared. Some whom I have seen in action appear to dread lest a little leniency now and then, when circumstances seem to warrant it, might foster wrongdoing. But my experience in many police courts leads me to the conclusion that this is not the case. In fact, precisely the contrary is true, as far as I have been able to observe. Many a man who has committed a crime or two, and who is sent to the penitentiary, never repeats it when he has been shown that the public, as represented by its judges, wants to give him all the opportunity possible, even to the extent of "taking a chance on him" after he has incurred punishment. Fellow citizens, if you care for the safety of your community, let us determine never to repeat it when he has been shown that the public, as represented by its judges, wants to give him all the opportunity possible, even to the extent of "taking a chance on him" after he has incurred punishment. Fellow citizens, if you care for the safety of your community, let us determine never to repeat it when he has been shown that the public, as represented by its judges, wants to give him all the opportunity possible, even to the extent of "taking a chance on him" after he has incurred punishment.

PLANES BEAT WARSHIPS

Big Gun Has Been Surpassed by Bomb-bearing Airplanes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The big gun as a projector of destructive missiles, has been surpassed by the bomb-bearing airplane. Recent tests have proved this beyond dispute. The biggest guns, either in the navy or in coast fortifications, fire projectiles 16 inches in diameter, weighing 2100 pounds. The latest model bombing planes, however, can launch a projectile of twice the weight and four times the destructive force of the 16-inch high-explosive shell. These monster bombs measure just one inch less than 14 feet in length and have a body diameter of 23 inches. Unlike the high-explosive shell, the airplane bomb is virtually all explosive.

Cheap by Comparison
The 4000-pound bomb, for instance, exclusive of the head, which contains the fuse cap, and the rudder-like tail which steadies it in flight, is made from 3/4-inch drawn steel tubing. Except for this thin wall, the entire 23 inches of its body diameter is crammed with TNT, making a simple and comparatively cheap engine of destruction.

The high-explosive shell, however, for firing from high-angle guns, must be finely machined to insure accuracy and safety. It can contain a much smaller bulk of explosive for destructive purposes than an airplane bomb, and it requires from $150 to $300 worth of powder to send it on its way.

A 14-inch navy gun costs, unmounted, about $200,000. The 12-inch costs somewhat less, the 16-inch somewhat more. Mounted, these big guns stand Uncle Sam close to a quarter of a million each.

Their maximum effective range may be set down as 20 miles. Even that is not possible without the assistance of aircraft as range-finders.

Difference in Price
For the cost of one of the these big guns, ten bombing planes capable of carrying 4000-pound bombs in a flight of four hours can be built. These planes have a radius of attack of about 200 miles.

The life of the $250,000 big gun is about 100 shots. The life of the $25,000 bombing plane is about 1000 hours of flying, or 100,000 miles.

The comparative personnel required to maintain and serve the big gun or the big plane is not far different. The bombing plane has reached its present development in 10 years. The big gun has reached its present stage in 1000 years.

These are facts the government's military experts have before them as they work on our future armament policy.

21 MEN FLEE FOR LIVES

Damage of $100,000 Caused by Explosion and Fire at Chelsea

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—Damage of $100,000 was caused when an explosion started fire in the factory of the United Indigo and Chemical company at the corner of Cabot street and Broadway, Chelsea, yesterday afternoon. During the blaze 21 men were forced to flee for their lives.

Two alarms were sounded for the blaze and help was summoned from Revere to check the flames, which had a great start owing to the defective fire alarm system. John J. Cowan, manager of the factory, ran to Box 38, which is situated in front of the factory, and pulled the hook. Falling to hear the signal strike he ran to a telephone to summon the firemen.

When the firemen under Chief David M. Hudson arrived, the building was a mass of flames and smoke was pouring forth from all sides. The firemen were stifled by the smoke, and their hands and faces were soon covered with dye. The fire had such a good start that the firemen were unable to stop it until the building was practically destroyed. Cause was held up two hours by the apparatus.

The building is a two-story brick one, and the fire is believed to have started in the rear of the first floor from a spark from an electric motor setting fire to some dyes and causing an explosion. The place was filled with dry material, which burned like paper.

The loss was estimated at $100,000 by J. A. Lull, manager of the company.

The greater number of the employees were working in a room next to the one in which the explosion occurred, and they jumped through the windows and escaped injury.

The Revere firemen added the Chelsea forces greatly in extinguishing the flames, which rose high in the air and threatened for a time to spread to buildings in the vicinity. Chief Kimball of Revere had just started his "diver" preparing for trip to New Hampshire, when the chief's car came to the house for him. He left the "diver" engine running to respond to the fire. When he returned the engine was still running.

Ex-Emperor Charles Planning for Restoration of Crown in Hungary

Greek King's Action Precedent in Scheme for Resumption of Royal Status

PARIS, Aug. 24.—Former Emperor Charles has planned with Admiral Horthy, the Hungarian regent, a restoration of the crown in Hungary, says the Geneva correspondent of the Journal. The return of King Constantine to Greece is declared to have been made the precedent in the scheme for Charles' resumption of royal status. The papal nuncio in Bern, it is asserted, was the intermediary between Charles and the regent.

Hungary will appear at the meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations in Geneva next month and ask for admission, says the correspondent in outlining the alleged plan. In the event this appeal is granted, the Hungarian parliament would be dissolved and the government would call for an election in which the dynasty question would be the principal issue. It is assumed by the royalists that they would be victorious and that the election would be followed by a call to Charles to take the Hungarian throne.

A vote on the part of the entente, it is said, would be met by an appeal to the League of Nations, which would be asked to uphold the principle of self-determination and permit Charles to reign in Hungary. The "little entente" composed of Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia and Rumania, the latter declared war on Hungary when Charles attempted to resume the throne last March, and should they repeat this threat after Charles has been called from Switzerland, the League would be asked to avert hostilities.

The correspondent asserts that Charles has no intention of quitting Switzerland for Spain or any other country, as his present residence is ideally located for the carrying on of the alleged plans.

WINS BATTLE WITH BEAR

Ex-Gov. Osborne of Mich. Triumphs After Desperate Struggle in St. Mary's River

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ontario, Aug. 24.—Former Governor Charles E. Osborne, of Michigan, engaged in a desperate hand-to-hand battle in St. Mary's river Monday with a black bear and emerged victorious only after stunning the animal with blows from an axe, then choking it to death with his hands.

Mr. Osborne, who is 61 years old and said to be an expert on bear hunting, was alone in a small boat when the bear appeared, swimming toward him. Witnesses on shore saw the animal nearly capsize the boat as it attempted to climb aboard while Mr. Osborne brought the axe down several times on its head. Realizing that his blows were having no effect, the hunter finally seized the bear by its throat and held on until the animal was dead.

CONGRESS EXPECTED TO RECESS TONIGHT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Congress was expected, having unforeseen developments, to recess tonight for three days. Both the senate and house when they met today were confronted with a number of miscellaneous matters which it was the aim of leaders to dispose of before declaring a recess but it was indicated that if the senate was not wiped clean the long-anticipated vacation would be deferred.

The senate upon reconvening resumed debate on the anti-beer bill while the house waited principally for reports of the conference on different bills. Among the looked-for conference reports were the shipping board deficit bill of $15,500,000, and the agricultural credits measure, which was deadlocked last night. In addition the senate hoped to complete action on extending to five years the emergency provision of the emergency tariff to January 1 next, and possibly to vote an extension of the emergency tariff itself to that date.

Indications when the senate met today were that the anti-beer bill would be shelved until fall. The deadlock on the agricultural credits bill, however, was regarded as a serious barrier to both houses because of their desire for its immediate passage. The chief difficulty was in house objection to a senate provision authorizing the war finance corporation to make export to a European association, the house insisting that there should be made in Americans only. Senate and house leaders took a hand in the situation late last night but with what result was not indicated.

Representative Mann, republican, Illinois, in this connection, issued a warning to his colleagues that their "chances of getting away on a recess must depend upon this conference."

Less than half of the automobiles stolen in New York in the last six months have been recovered.

Lowell Morris Plan Company

ANNOUNCES A NEW

Savings, Investment and Insurance Contract Combining Thrift, Investment and Safety*What Is the Insured Morris Plan Way?

It is savings, investment and life insurance combined in one contract. Under this plan you can purchase the 5% Investment Certificate of the Morris Plan Company in multiples of $500 to $5000 and pay for them in sixty months from small monthly savings, during which time you will be insured in The Morris Plan Insurance Society for the full amount of your investment, and at the same time earn 5% interest on your money. It is one of the safest and surest investments you can make.

How It Is Done

You make application to the Morris Plan Company for a $500, 5% Investment Certificate to be protected by life insurance in The Morris Plan Insurance Society, for which you agree to pay $8.00 per month for sixty months. The Morris Plan Insurance Society will then issue you a life insurance policy of $500 on which the company will make the premium payments for you, as provided in your contract. If you should die before you complete the payments on your contract, the Insurance Society will pay your estate $500, and the company will pay your estate all the money you paid in with 5% interest. You pay $8.00 per month for each $500, 5% Investment Certificate subscribed for.

Your Monthly Payment Covers Everything

The total cost of the $500, 5% Investment Certificate and the $500 of Life Insurance for five years for persons 21 to 40 years of age inclusive, is $540, but you pay only $8.00 per month for sixty months, making a total of $480. The interest on your monthly payments makes up the difference. The monthly payments of $8.00 covers everything. Your monthly payments will bear 5% interest from the date each payment is made, and the company will compound and credit the interest on your Contract on the first of January and July in each year. Persons 41 to 45 years of age inclusive, pay $2.00 extra with the first payment in each year; persons 46 to 50 pay $4.00 extra with the first payment in each year and persons 51 to 55 pay $8.00 extra with the first payment in each year.

How It Works

If you had made only one payment of $8.00 on your Contract and should die the next day after the policy is issued, your beneficiary or estate would receive $500. If you should die after having made twelve monthly payments of $8.00 each, your beneficiary or estate would receive $500 and $80.21 in cash. If you should die after having made thirty-six payments of $8.00 each, your beneficiary or estate would receive $500 and $284.56 in cash, or if you should die before the end of the fifth year, after having made sixty payments of $8.00 each, your beneficiary or estate would receive $1000 in cash. If you subscribe for more than one Certificate, your cash and insurance values will be increased in the same proportion.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Final performances of "The Foolish Matrons," starring Hobart Bosworth and Doris May, together with "Moonlight and Honeyuckle," featuring Mary Miles Minter, will be given at the Merrimack Square theatre this evening. Tomorrow there will be an entire change of program.

The leading attractions for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be "Dangerous Toys," starring William Desmond and Margaret Clayton, and "The Magic Cup," with Constance Binney in the leading role.

"Dangerous Toys" is the story of a wife who becomes a fashion model so she can wear the expensive clothes her husband cannot afford to buy her.

During her working hours she makes the acquaintance of the banker for whom her husband works, and he proposes that she accept his offer of a limited time during which all of his wealth shall be at her disposal. At the end of the time she shall be free to choose to continue the life or go back to her husband.

With the most honorable of motives, the wife accepts the offer, at the same time telling her husband that she is going out of town for her firm to a fashion show. The husband overhears some men at his club telling that his wife is at the apartment of the banker.

He rushes there and finds her. From that point on, the drama maintains its high-water mark of sustained action. Events follow, one on the heels of the other, sensational situations develop up to the smashing finish. "Dangerous Toys" is a tense picture, which will keep spectators gripping the sides of their seats.

A modern city Cinderella is the heroine of "The Magic Cup," the other feature for the week-end.

The Prince Charming in the case is a cub reporter and they meet, not at a ball, as in the old fairy story, but in the unromantic atmosphere of a hotel kitchen.

The male lead opposite Miss Binney is played by Vincent Coleman.

A comedy, "Short and Snappy," and the International News complete the bill.

THE STRAND

Hert Lyell in "The Man Who," and Edith Roberts in "Thunder Island" provide excellent motion picture entertainment to patrons who prefer a highly varied and well-balanced offering. And besides these, two features the bill has an excellent comedy and one of those International Weekly offerings that has glimpses of various events of interest to all. Don't fail to see an ideal motion picture program under ideal conditions. It's at The Strand.

Beginning on Thursday, matinee, and continuing the remainder of the week there will be an entire change of bill, with Corinne Griffith in "What's Your Reputation Worth?" and Earle Williams in "It Can't Be Done."

Formerly the strange story of a girl so impressed by a weird dream that she made it come true. She gave her reputation to a man she loved in order that he might find happiness. She had a hard struggle and went through many unusual adventures before she also found happiness. Miss Griffith, known as "the best dressed woman of the screen" has an excellent role. The offering is a veritable fashion show as well as a great story. "It Can't Be Done" is one of the most pleasing photoplays of the year, filled with suspense and springing a series of surprises in rapid succession. The characters are true to life, while the story shows that truth holds more real excitement than fiction. The principal role is capably handled by Earle Williams.

NEW LAKEVIEW PARK

Tonight is "Impersonation night" at Lakeview. As a novelty, it is bound to attract. Friday night will find the Honey Boys' quartet an added feature. This organization is known far beyond Lowell's boundary lines. Meanwhile, every afternoon and evening, Milner-Doyles orchestra plays pleasing music peculiarly its own, with the acoustical distributing the melody evenly through the great dance hall. Get the Lakeview habit, if you have not already acquired it, and you will enjoy the remaining days of August and the entire month of September.

Hearts of Nova Scotia Salts Set On Winning Cup

WILLIAM H. DENNIS, DONOR OF THE CUP FOR THE INTERNATIONAL FISHERMEN'S RACE.

By Newspaper Enterprise
HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, Aug. 24.—Nova Scotians have decided that the month of September is too early for their fishermen's races.

The first will be on the Grand Banks, battling against the autumn gales, hauling their catch and working feverishly against time, when they will make their run for sport.

The middle of October has been finally set for their elimination series, the victor will face the selection of the Gloucester fleet.

Whether it will be the "Bluenose" against the "Mayflower" is problematical.

Long Road

The vessels have a long and hard road to travel before they can meet each other off Halifax Harbor.

Last year nine schooners contested the series on behalf of the Canadians and the pride of the fleet was the "Delawana" of Lunenburg.

The Americans snatched up the subsequent challenge so readily that they had no time for an elimination race, the "Esperanto" now a total wreck on the shoals of Sable Island, was immediately chosen, fixed up, sent off to Halifax and in two races out but the Nova Scotians are all out.

THE "BLUENOSE" ON WHICH NOVA SCOTIANS DEPEND TO WIN BACK CUP FROM AMERICAN DEFENDER.

gathered in the Halifax Herald's trophy and departed for Gloucester.

Hopeful
For a win this year. The "Bluenose" is a fisherman from whom much is expected. No doubts are expressed as to her ability to gather in the elimination series—but nothing is more uncertain than ocean racing.

Captain Angus Walters, skipper of the "Bluenose," is confident that his vessel will justify all the hopes entertained for her. With characteristic Nova Scotia reticence, however, he merely says that "he thinks she can race."

TROPHY CUP WHICH FISHING SCHOONERS RACE FOR IN OCTOBER.

The purpose of the fishermen's race is to get as far away as possible from the idea of yachting, or lounging around in a calm, untroubled sea awaiting port at the first puff of wind.

The racers breeze out into the broad Atlantic, pick their way among the ledges of Sable, scene of many a tragic wreck, and round a course of thirty-nine and a half miles they plough their way with full sail spanking along to the music of breaking masts and ashing waves.

Real Salts

This is the type of race beloved of fishermen, the event that occupies the mind of the salts on the wharves of New England and Nova Scotia from one year's end to the other.

There is nothing of the parlor-yachting variety about it. And that is the salt that is going to be with the victor.

The date of the International Series for the Halifax Herald's trophy is October 22nd, and those who know the north Atlantic off Halifax in that month know also that it is no place for either franks or dainty bits of garden-pond construction.

QUIMET AND REILLY WIN

Large Gallery at Longmeadow Sees Hendry and Stein of Nashua Beaten

Before a gallery of several hundred, at Longmeadow yesterday afternoon, Francis Quimet of Woodland, together with W. Reilly, Jr., of Essex, defeated James Hendry and Joseph Stein, both of the Nashua Country club five up and three to play in an 18 hole contest. Steady rather than brilliant was the brand of golf offered to the fans. All participants in the foursome seemed to find difficulty with their putts, despite the apparent excellent condition of the green. Men Quimet had hard luck in this respect, and the result showed on his card. He might have made up for his misfortunes on the green, had he not missed into some rocks near the hole of the contest. Seven for this hole, the second last, was the best he could do, and with five for the final hole his second round fared worse than his first.

John M. O'Donoghue acted as announcer, while Henry J. Farrell presided at the greens. The cards were:

Quimet	5	3	4	1	3	5	5	4	3	7	—37
Reilly	5	3	5	3	4	5	5	4	3	7	—36
Hendry	5	3	4	6	4	5	5	4	2	8	—42
Stein	5	4	4	3	3	6	5	5	4	8	—40

—Approximated.

LOWELL BALL TEAMS IN CLASSY GAMES

The famous Cornets of Lynn, one of the strongest independent ball teams in the state, is desirous of getting a game with Manager Mickey Coughlin's K. of C. club. A communication to this effect has been received, in which the Lynn manager points out five games with the James S. Hayes council, as an indication of the class of his outfit. In five games each team won twice while the other battle went to a draw.

The Hayes council team plays here next Saturday in an attempt to avenge a 1 to 0 defeat suffered earlier in the season, and the Cornets would like to come back the following week. Manager Coughlin, of the local knights, is now considering the request.

The Hayes council has set up a splendid record this season and feels confident of triumphing over the knights here next Saturday. They will bring their strongest lineup to Lowell, and the title is in prospect. They will immediately challenge the locals to a third, or rubber game, to be played later in the season.

Manager Coughlin, whose classy lights team, now known as the Cornets, has a number of other applications for games. The Hayes Professionals, with Dave Shean, King Pader, Ray Skilton, Lonerkan and other stars in the lineup, are among those desirous of coming here.

Tomorrow night on the South common the Broadway club team under the management of the veteran Bob Canley will play the Nashua Independent, runners up in the Nashua Twilight league and a good game is expected. Canley will use about the same lineup as last season, and the C.M.A.C. in the first game of the three game C.M.A.C.-Broadway series last Saturday, only that he expects to have Frankie McPherson in the infield, and he is confident of winning from the up river club.

The Broadways and C.M.A.C. teams will clash in the second series game next Saturday on the Textile campus, and the title is in prospect. The first game resulted in a batting and error carnival, with a remarkable rally by the Broadways featuring the C.M.A.C. team out, however, because of being spotted ten runs in the first inning. It will be different in the next game, says Canley, while the Pawtucket street aggregation avers that it will again land the victory.

It is announced that Red Rorty, the former baseball and polo ump will officiate in the series arranged by the C.M.A.C. and the Broadways. C. M. A. C. is the title of the Lowell and Lawrence Twilight leagues. The first game of this series will be played in Lawrence next Saturday.

CALIFORNIA IS IN THE TENNIS LIMELIGHT

California leads in tennis "reels" as well as movie reels.

Three California women fought to the last ditch in the national championship of the Broeders' event. A girl of 15 summers and pigtail captured the junior national title. Her home is in sunny "Cal," too.

And that isn't all. Kinsey brothers and Little Bill Johnston are cleaning up on the easterners.

And it isn't a dead end that Johnston won't unveil the great Tilden, world champion, the coming matches at Forest Hills.

TANK-MADE
Johnny Weismuller, Chicago A.C. sprint swimmer, has taken the "king" out of Duke Kahanamoku.

Swimming 100 yards in 22 1/2 seconds. A year ago Weismuller couldn't swim a century in less than 100.

He has been ably coached, being a running mate for Norman Ross.

But he learned quickly. He is tall, rangy. He cuts the water like a blade.

The Duke is a born swimmer. Weismuller is a tank-made star.

HOPES
New York has turned to the Yankees for the fulfillment of its pennant hope.

The Giants have been staggering about in the cellar for a long time, with the boys loaded so far this season. But Kelly can't hypodermic a whole ball club with a Jax hat.

The Yankees with the colorful Babe Ruth are shaking the top.

If the Yankers can't cut the buck this fall, then it's time to rent off the stars and hire less colorful fellows who can hit, run hard and do more all-round baseball tumbling.

CLASS
Jack Dempsey is back in his eastern haunts.

He made a lot of new friends down at Atlantic City when he got back in for the big one to returned.

With Dempsey at our boardwalk summer resort and Georges Carpentier at Diaper, a famous European water place, it looks like boxing want such a low-brow business after all.

Boxers keep right on making big money even though a great flock of the fans of rock are idle in the shops and factories.

"One Fighter Shouldn't Second Another," Says Gibbons

By TOMMY GIBBONS

Light Heavyweight Contender

OSAKIS, Minn., Aug. 24.—There is only one man in my corner when I fight.

That man is Eddie Kane, my manager.

Fighters make a mistake by holding a buzzing bee in their corner between rounds.

The one minute's rest is meant to rest, to regain poise and to make plans for the next round.

Kane is an ideal kind of adviser. He is cool, quick to see an opponent's weakness and has the knack of imparting the spark of confidence.

He will be in my corner when I fight Carpenter for the light heavy-weight title.

And he will be in Mike's corner when he fights for the middleweight title.

Mike used to be in my corner all ways when I fought. He gave me my start. We've gone through a lot of tough ones together.

He used to be afraid I'd get knocked out, that I would have hurt him as much as me.

Break
But I firmly believe it is wrong for brothers to second each other. The bond of sympathy is too strong between them for one thing.

Then Mike is a fighter. There's the main objection I have to it. No two fighters work alike.

Mike, for instance, has his own effective style. Quite naturally he figures I should follow his system.

Now Mike and I are bulk differently. Our bones are different, our muscles are not developed alike.

A punch which he finds effective doesn't get results for me.

He used to want me to swing a certain kind of a right. I never could gain effectiveness with it.

Can't Copy
My arm turns out differently than his. My shoulder bones and muscles are not hung together the same as his.

I used to try and try Mike's way. But put this in your hat—you can't copy a punch. Every fighter has to work out his own style and system.

I hated to break away from Mike's mannerisms in the ring. He had taught me so much. He is so graceful, perfect in his workmanship.

But I would never have developed into a knockout fighter if I hadn't had been just a counterfeit of Mike.

Science
A year ago I had a talk with Mike.

SUZANNE MAY NOT PLAY

French Tennis Star Suffers Relapse and May Soon Return to France

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Possibility that Suzanne Lenglen, French tennis star, may return to France without appearing again on an American court, loomed today when it was learned that she had suffered a relapse in the bronchial trouble which caused her to drop out of the tournament.

She had been in the hospital for several days, and it was feared that she might be compelled to leave without meeting Mrs. Mallory in the return match for which negotiations are under way.

Emma Harvester Wins Trot at Poughkeepsie

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Emma Harvester, a 4-year-old filly recently purchased by W. H. Kane of New York for $20,000, made good at the opening of the grand circuit meeting at Hudson River Driving Park yesterday, winning the feature event, the $2,000 stake for 2-year-olds.

She defeated E. Colorado, star stake winner of the Cox stake, the time was not fast, the track being deep and slow.

The Breeders' club sweepstakes events for 2 and 3-year-olds were also won by Emma Harvester, although the time was not fast.

E. Colorado and Walnut Frisco were best liked for the 2,000 stake. Emma Harvester got away flying in the first half and leading E. Colorado in behind her and trailing to the stretch.

When "Long Shot" made his drive, E. Colorado could not get up to the filly, which sent him a neck in 2:07 1/2, with Great Britain, which had made a break on the upper turn, third.

Emma Harvester again led all the way in the second mile, E. Colorado being pocketed and unable to get out in the stretch. Had he been able to get clear there might have been a different story to tell.

A quarrel started in the 2-year-old division of the Breeders' event. Helen Dillon, which won at Philadelphia last week, was easily the class of the field and won as she pleased in straight heats, with Dorothy Harvester second.

Tom Murphy gave the home folks a chance to win by leading the 2:21 trotters with his recent purchase, Patrovsky. Previous to the start of the race, Murphy over his star trotter, Peter Manning.

Only two started in the 3-year-old event, which was won by Stella Wood. "Pop" Gears beating her the second heat with his namesake.

SAYS NEW ERA IS DAWNING

Crissinger Says Effects of Disarmament Conference Will be "Miraculous"

Coming Upon Time of Definite, Specific Measures of World Reorganization

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 24.—Effects of the coming disarmament conference upon business and industrial problems will be "little less than miraculous" if the assembly is viewed from the proper frame of mind by the American people, Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger declared in an address today before the Cotton States Merchants' Association in convention here.

"We are coming," Mr. Crissinger said, "upon the time of definite, specific measures of world reorganization. We have passed the era of inspirational excesses and are getting down to brass tacks of practical facts and feasible accomplishments. Within the next two months there will meet in Washington what we all earnestly hope will be the most important international conference the world has ever known, a conference inspired by the hope of human betterment and at the same time tempered, as I believe, by a will to find it tempered by the recognition that cold realities must be given their proper weight and proportion.

"We are not going to make a Utopia of this world by any process of treaty and covenant. Recognizing this, the forthcoming conference, I am firmly convinced, will devote itself to working out measures capable of enforcement, effective in their operation, to which men and communities will be willing to submit themselves in the hope of an advancement of human institutions."

MOTHER JONES OFF FOR MARMET

To Address Miners in Camp as Protest Against Martial Law

Officials Recognize the Gravity of Situation and Prepare to Resist Advance

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 24.—Mother Jones, well known as a leader among the miners, left here this morning for Marmet, where some 3000 miners have been in camp several days as a protest against the maintenance of martial law in the Mingo county coal field. Mother Jones was to address the men, who have moved their camp five miles from the original site to what was described as a more comfortable location.

While recognizing the gravity of the situation occasioned by the presence of so large a body of men within striking distance of the capital, public officials and leading citizens here expressed the opinion that under proper leadership the incident would be closed without serious results.

It was recognized, however, that the situation still contained elements of danger, particularly if the original program was carried out and the men took up the march through Boone and Logan counties to Mingo. There was no force in Boone county to bar their way, officials said, but the sheriff of Logan county had announced that they would not be allowed to pass its boundary line, and it was known that he had under him a considerable force of trained deputies.

Here in Charleston the city police force, with Sheriff Walker's deputies and a small detachment of state police, was looked upon as strong enough to protect the city in existing circumstances. There was no evidence at the capital today that federal troops were expected to enter the city.

The mystery surrounding the movement of these mountaineers was enhanced last night and this morning when careful inquiries failed entirely to locate the leaders.

The men have a clearly defined program it has not been allowed to reach the public, while labor leaders usually in touch with all movements in the state profess ignorance as to the real purpose of the gathering, other than that it was originally intended to march into Mingo. In some quarters here it was predicted that unless the march was taken up today or tomorrow the movement would probably be abandoned.

BLAMES HOOGH FOR AUTO DEATH INCREASE

LENOX, Aug. 24.—Hoogh and home brew are to blame for an alarming increase in fatal automobile accidents in the state of Massachusetts, State Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin told members of the Automobile club of Berkshire county last night at a banquet at Hotel Astor.

Jail sentences for all motorists convicted of operating machines while under the influence of liquor is the only remedy left, he said. Fines and taking away licenses have failed to curb the evil. As increases in fatal accidents from 151 in the first eight months of last year to 202 in the first eight months of this year were the figures given by Mr. Goodwin in support of his statement.

He said that in 1918, the last full year before prohibition was effective, there were 553 convictions in the courts of Massachusetts for operating autos while under the influence of liquor, while in 1920, the first full year after prohibition became effective, there were 888 convictions on this charge.

A decrease in the total number of accidents of all kinds has been accomplished, he said. In 1920 a total of 2263 have been taken up, as compared to 1171 for the same period of 1920. This year, up to August 1, there have been but 523 persons injured in auto accidents as compared to 1024 injured in the same period last year.

$443,313,000 IN GOLD BROUGHT TO U. S.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Gold to the value of $443,313,000 has been brought to the United States from foreign countries since the beginning of the present year, while exports of the metal for the same period have amounted to $120,000, according to figures made public by the federal reserve board.

Imports of silver also showed that during the first eight months of this year silver valued at $1,270,000 has arrived here from Germany.

AUTO TIPPED OVER KILLING CHILD

ATTLEBORO, Aug. 24.—Florence Le Clair, 2 years old, was killed yesterday by an automobile on Holden street, and two playmates were seriously injured. Howard Parker of Wrentham, driver of the runabout which struck the children, is under arrest charged with manslaughter and will be arraigned in the district court today.

The Le Clair baby, her brother, Leo, aged 5, and her sister, Eva, 13, were playing in the street. The children had a cart, and the two younger were being drawn along by the eldest when the accident occurred.

Mr. Parker, accompanied by C. T. Carpenter, turned to the right to let another machine come out of an intersecting street. The children ran in front of his car. He made a quick turn to avoid striking them, and turned too short.

The runabout went over and came down right on top of the cart, crushing the two children under it. The third was badly cut by flying glass. The two injured children are at the Sturdy Memorial hospital.

BACK DOWN BY PANAMA

Yields to U. S. and Will Not Resist Occupation of Disputed Territory

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Panama will not resist the occupation of the disputed territory of Coto by Costa Rica, the American minister at Panama yesterday cabled the state department, having been informed by the Panamanian minister of foreign affairs.

The decision of the government of Panama, the American minister advised the department, was made known after presentation of a new note from the American government stating clearly that the United States would not countenance any hostilities growing out of the occupation which this government had held to be justified under the Loubet and White awards.

The American minister also informed the department that the government of Panama, through its foreign minister had assured him the police sent into the Coto district would be withdrawn prior to Costa Rica's occupation.

These assurances of Panama were regarded by state department officials generally as forecasting a complete and final settlement of the entire controversy in a peaceful manner. Secretary Hughes interpreted the developments as completely dissipating any possibility of hostilities between the two countries incident to the occupation.

The battalion of American marines en route to Central America aboard the battleship Pennsylvania, will continue in accordance with orders, it was understood, but officials said there was practically no possibility of their being landed.

Order of Evacuation
PANAMA, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Coto has been ordered evacuated by the civilian authorities so that the Costa Ricans on their arrival there will find no Panamanian government forces.

The order will not reach Coto before Friday, as, owing to interruption of telephone communication between Coto and Coto, it will have to be transmitted by courier.

The order of evacuation is the immediate result of the last note of Secretary Hughes to Panama, saying that the United States would not allow a resumption of hostilities. Señor Alfaro says an answer to the note of Mr. Hughes will be forwarded to Washington tomorrow.

Although the Panamanian government has notified the state department at Washington that no resistance will be offered the Costa Ricans in occupying the disputed territory, Ricardo Coto, Narciso Garay the Panamanian foreign minister, who is now in Washington, has been ordered to leave there immediately to file a protest with the state department.

Probe of Band of Swindlers

The possession of federal authorities, Government agents have also recovered a million and a half dollars worth of doubtful notes and have made eight arrests.

Alva Harshman, for the last six years French's secretary, confessed yesterday to John V. Clinch, assistant United States district attorney, regarding the band's activities. Mr. Clinch said. He was released in $5000 bonds, and is expected to be a star witness for the government.

Another alleged statement of the band's activities came from Rudolph Kohn, head of the American Robber company, a Chicago concern. French was arrested some time ago in connection with the activities of John V. Worthington, alleged head of a group engaged in disposing of securities obtained in mail robberies. French is held here under $25,000 bonds.

Besides French and Worthington, both of whom are under arrest, Harshman, in his alleged confession implicated a number of others. C. K. Stobel, Akron, Ohio, real estate man; Elmer Gerber, of Cleveland, and A. E. Strosin, of Milwaukee, were yesterday taken into custody in those cities as agents of French. Today federal officials were said to be hurrying to Washington to question the cashier of the bank where French was said to be involved in the operations of the swindlers.

"I don't know where this will end," Mr. Clinch said. "The whole affair is almost too big to grasp—I doubt if even French could tell its ramifications easily."

LEAVE FOR MEXICO CITY

Four American Oil Men Off for Conference With Mexican Government Officials

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Four members of a delegation of American oil men who are to take up directly with the Mexican government the differences arising out of the Mexican taxes on oil exports planned to leave here today for Mexico City.

They are Walter C. Tagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey; J. W. Van Dyke of the Atlantic Refining company; H. P. Sinclair of Sinclair Consolidated and Amos L. Beatty of the Beatty company. Edward L. Doherty, the other member of the committee, representing Mexican petroleum interests, plans to leave Los Angeles later in the week and will join the party in the Mexican capital.

Protests against the proposed conference, which has the sanction of government officials at Washington, was voiced last night by the American Association of Mexico, an organization formed to represent the interests of land owners and many other Americans who formerly resided in Mexico. The association sent telegrams to Secretary of State Hughes and to the president of Mexico arguing that any conference entered into should attempt to settle difficulties between the two countries rather than limit itself to the oil issue.

PHONE OFFICIAL HAD TO KEEP ON GUARD

SAYS HE WAS SUBJECT TO TERRIBLE ATTACKS OF DIZZINESS AND INDIGESTION

"Nobody can be around me long without hearing what I've got to say about Tania," it is certainly great," said Henry D. Carpenter, 15 Piney place, Springfield, Mass., recently. Mr. Carpenter is assistant engineer in the Springfield territory for the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co.

"Before I got hold of Tania I had been bothered with stomach trouble for five years and was worrying along, getting worse in spite of all I could do. I was subject to terrible attacks of indigestion and at times turned almost deadly sick. The gas on my stomach was awful and I would have the worst sort of pain. I was troubled constantly with constipation and had headaches that simply took the life out of me. Dizzy spells would strike me two and three times a day and I had to keep on my guard all the time. I was run down all over and felt weak and no account from morning till night."

"But I knew what good health means now and I have Tania to thank for it. That's all I need for I am feeling fine. My appetite has come back in full force and I eat like I never had stomach trouble. I sleep fine and am no longer constipated. In fact, I haven't felt so strong and well in years and from now on I am going to always keep a bottle of Tania in the house. Nothing will ever shake my faith in it."

Tania is sold in Lowell by Green's drug store under the personal direction of a special Tania representative, by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass.; A. D. Wells, Chelmsford, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

and Kellogg, Minneapolis. Secretary Hughes was the next to make his appearance and Senators Maes, New Hampshire; McCormick, Illinois; Knox, Pennsylvania; New of Indiana, and McCumber of North Dakota followed.

Senator Borah of Idaho, one of the republican committee members, did not attend the conference. He explained to newspaper men that he had not declined the president's invitation, but "was unable to attend on account of other matters."

Senator Johnson of California, who, like Senator Borah, was an irrevocable in the fight over the treaty of Versailles, also was absent from the conference. The California senator has not been in Washington for several days.

PROF. KARLIN DROPPED

Action Follows Criticism in Connection With Trial of Negroes Implicated in Riots

LYNCHBURG, Va., Aug. 24.—Copies of resolutions of the board of visitors of Virginia military institute dismissing Professor Robert T. Karlin from the institute because of an open letter addressed by him to the governor of Arkansas, reflecting upon the administration of justice in that state in connection with the trial of negroes implicated in the Elaine riots, were made public here yesterday by Professor Karlin.

Professor Karlin disclosed that he was given an opportunity to defend his position before the board in Lynchburg last Saturday and his refusal at that time to resign caused the board to declare his connection with the institute "immediately terminated."

The board declared in its resolution that Professor Karlin's activities in intellectual matters "had rendered his further connection with the Virginia military institute undesirable and his retention in the professorship harmful and detrimental thereto and embarrassing to those responsible for its conduct and management."

An agreement, it was stated, had been entered into with the German government not to make the text of the peace treaty public until the signatures of Ellis Loring Drexel, the American commissioner in Berlin, and Dr. Friedrich Rosen, the German foreign minister, have been affixed. This, according to press dispatches from Berlin, will take place today. The text of the treaty, it was said, then will be made public simultaneously in Berlin and Washington.

Born and Johnson Aboard
Senator Lodge was the first to arrive at the White House, reaching there at 5:15 o'clock, the time set for the conference. He was followed by Senators Brandegee of Connecticut,

BLOODSHED IN BRITISH INDIA

Grave Situation in the Malabar District Caused by Seditious Agitators

Serious Mass-Rioting and Destruction of Property—Troops Fire on Rioters

BOMBAY, Aug. 24.—A grave situation has arisen in the Malabar district on the west coast of British India, where seditious agitators have been working on the religious fanaticism of the ignorant natives. Their activities have resulted in serious mass rioting, bloodshed and destruction of property. Military forces have fired upon rioters, causing many casualties.

Railway lines have been cut, post-offices have been robbed and mob law is almost supreme in several small towns. One village, surrounded by a mob, had repeatedly made distressing calls for help. Military reinforcements have arrived at Bangalore, capital of the district of Mysore. A proclamation has been issued by the British officer commanding troops in the Malabar area. It refers to "open rebellion prevailing in the district of North Penna," 25 miles south of Calicut. Several murders have occurred, the victims including a military officer and a superintendent.

NATION'S SUPER HOST

The disarmament conference will bring thousands of visitors to Washington. Henry T. Fletcher, undersecretary of state, is now busy as the nation's superhost. His is the task to welcome, house and entertain them. That's almost as big a job as disarming the nations.

Viscount Ishii Solves Difficulty

PARIS, Aug. 24.—Viscount Ishii, president of the council of the League of Nations, has solved in an unexpected way the difficulty caused by the determination of Count Quinones de Leon, Spanish ambassador to France, to serve as reporter to the League of Nations on the question of Upper Silesia, recently referred to the League's council by the allied supreme council. Viscount Ishii, it was announced today, will take the presentation of the case to the council himself, and presumably perform the other duties devolving upon the reporter in connection with the case. Great Britain, France and Italy were eliminated because of their membership in the supreme council.

WOMEN MAKE DEMANDS

Seek Equal Privileges With Men in All Unions Affiliated With A. F. of L.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 24.—Organized women workers of the country are pressing the demand for equal privileges with men in all unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Representatives of women wage earners appeared before the federation's executive council in session here and urged that it take steps immediately to compel all unions to admit them to membership with full privileges.

After a lengthy discussion, the women delegates were informed by the council that it was powerless to compel unions to grant them membership, as the constitution of the federation guarantees the autonomy of each international organization. The council, however, is understood to have promised to use its influence in every way to have the rights of the women workers recognized by all unions.

Barbers Oppose Women

COMPLETE DRAFT OF IRISH REPLY

Will be Delivered to Lloyd George on Thursday Night or Friday Morning

Delivery, it is Thought, Will Precede Public Meeting of Dail Eireann

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—The reply to Great Britain's terms for a settlement of the Irish question will be delivered at Premier Lloyd George's official residence in Downing street, London, tonight or Friday morning. It is expected here. The delivery, it is thought, will precede the proposed public meeting of the Dail Eireann.

In the preparation of the reply, on which Eamon de Valera and the other leaders were working today while the Dail was taking recess, the cabinet has the benefit of advice from the members of the Sinn Fein executive committee, which is composed of somewhat older men than the average of the Dail membership. These men were participants in the conferences today over the terms of the reply now being framed.

Courier to Take Note
LONDON, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—A Sinn Fein courier will be sent from Dublin tomorrow night with the reply of the Dail Eireann to the British government's peace proposals, says a Central News dispatch from Dublin.

It adds, it is to be delivered to Premier Lloyd George in London Friday morning.

MAYOR THINKS HE MUST TALK WITH MURPHY

Signs which are to be posted in the principal downtown streets as part of the campaign of enforcement of the proposed new traffic regulations which have been drafted by representatives of the chamber of commerce and Arthur P. Woodley, secretary to Mayor Thompson, are now in the hands of the painters and will be ready in a few days.

It will be recalled that when the new regulations were first proposed it was planned to mark off certain "safety areas" in the downtown sections where pedestrians might travel in safety. The question has come up as to whether the mayor, the director of public safety, will have the right to direct this work or whether it is a function that is purely up to the commissioner of streets and highways.

When queried on the matter this morning, the mayor said that he felt that he had sufficient authority to have the streets marked from his office as director of public safety, but that before doing so he would consult Commissioner Murphy to get the latter's consent.

It is expected that the new regulations will be ready to be put into operation within the next fortnight.

GIANT AIRSHIP, WITH AMERICAN CREW ABOARD, EXPLODES OVER HULL, ENG., AND DROPS INTO RIVER

Prisoner Says After "Getaway" He Filed Twisters From Wrists and Threw Them in the River

William J. Dalton, who, according to testimony in the district court this morning, assaulted and rendered half unconscious Officer Richard J. Goggin while the latter was attempting to arrest him for drunkenness Saturday evening, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction by Judge Wright on the charge. Dalton admitted escaping from Officer Goggin while wearing handcuffs. One of the handcuffs had been applied by the officer, according to testimony, just before Dalton made his getaway with the bracelets dangling from his wrist. Dalton told Judge Wright that he filed the twister off and flung it into the Merrimack river.

Officer Goggin stated on the stand that Saturday evening he encountered Dalton as the latter was proceeding

Keep a Watch on Your Money; Police Warned of Bogus Cash; Raised Notes Reach Local Banks

Local banks and police officers have been warned to be on the lookout for four new counterfeit federal reserve notes which are said to be in circulation here. The notice sent out recently by the treasury department said that the counterfeit notes include a $50 note on a New York Federal Reserve bank; a $20 note on a Chicago bank; a $10 note on a Kansas City bank and a $5 note on a Chicago bank. The first two were said to be distinguished by blue instead of green backs and the latter two by poor quality of the paper.

The banks in Lowell have taken in several raised notes lately. At one of the institutions several $2 notes were exhibited which had been cleverly raised to the denomination of $5. The persons who raised the notes have not yet been found by the local police.

Chicago Concern is to Furnish Morey School Furniture Although Local Concern is a Low Bidder

The contract for several hundred adjustable chairs and desks for the pupils who are to occupy the addition to the Charles W. Morey school will be awarded to the American Seating Co., of Chicago, despite the fact that a local concern, the Robertson Co., submitted a bid as low as the Chicago concern.

The Robertson Co. was unable to produce a steel desk, which the school department officials wanted. Purchasing Agent Edward H. Foye and representatives of the school department visited the Boston offices of the American Seating Co. and Heywood Bros. & Wakefield Co. of which the Robertson Co. is the local agent, Monday afternoon. The American Seating Co. showed a sample of a steel desk but the other firm was unable to produce one.

$15,000,000 in Notes and Securities Seized in Probe of Swindlers

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—Fifteen million dollars in notes and securities were seized in the Union Trust company safety deposit vault here today by John Sawken, department of justice agent, investigating the Cleveland activities of Charles W. French, alleged Chicago swindler under arrest in that city. The seizure came after Elmer Gerber, Cleveland stock broker and former secretary to French, confessed his connection with the French operations to Sawken and led him to the vault.

The trip to the park was made at 12:30 o'clock in several auto trucks and a couple of touring cars. Each of the cars was gallily decorated with the national emblem. Arrived at Lakeview, the party halted for a time and entertained by independents.

ELABORATE COIFFURE IS WORN IN COURT

Sporting hair done up with a coiffure like that of a woman, Joseph Bastien, of Hollis, N. H., appeared in the district court this morning charged with drunkenness. Bastien, from his unique mode of hairdressing, which included a little "bun" of hair on the back of his head, apparently belonged to some organization which is opposed to hair-bobbing even by males. His scruples, however, did not prevent him from contracting an internal "bun" as well, according to the testimony of the arresting officer. He was released, being a first offender, and advised to return to Hollis.

Dirigible ZR-2 Breaks in Two and Bursts Into Flames Following Terrific Explosions

Thousands of People of Hull Watched Disaster—Force of Explosions Breaks Windows in Hull—Many Dash Panic-Stricken for Fear of Being Enveloped in Wreckage—Eye Witnesses Saw Three Men Descend From Airship in Parachute—Two Dead and a Number of Injured Landed

ZR-2 AND ITS AMERICAN COMMANDER

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—The giant airship ZR-2, purchased by the United States from Great Britain, exploded over the city of Hull today, according to advices received here shortly after 6.30 o'clock this evening. The airship is a wreck in the river of Humber and it is feared that there was some loss of life.

The airship was passing over Hull when it descended from the airship by parachute. Three men were seen hanging from one parachute. There were terrific explosions and the airship burst into flames and commenced to descend. Three parachutes were seen to leave the ZR-2. Thousands of the people of Hull watched the disaster, which occurred at 5.40 o'clock. As the explosion occurred they dashed panic-stricken in all directions for fear of being enveloped by the wreckage, which fell just over the Victoria Pier.

Two Dead Landed

Two dead and a number of injured were landed from the river and conveyed to the Hull infirmary. Burning fragments from the airship bristled columns of smoke and flames which extended for hundreds of feet along the surface of the water.

Eye witnesses saw at least three men

This shows the giant dirigible ZR-2, starting out of its British hangar at Howden, England, on its first test flight. Below is Commander L. H. Maxfield, of America.

STOCK MARKET

The following is a complete report, giving high, low and closing quotations:

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Stocks continued to lose ground at the listless opening of today's stock market. New low records for the year were made by some of the prominent issues, notably Mercantile Marine Preferred, American International, Pullman, Anaconda Copper and International Paper, at declines running from large fractions to one point. Crucible Steel, American Car, Cuba Cane Sugar, and Great Northern also reacted. Union Pacific was the only stock to display strength, gaining one point on yesterday's final statement of earnings.

During the further selling of the morning, many low priced and obscure stocks broke into new low ground. These included Erie-Arrow common and preferred, Columbia Graphophone common and preferred, Crucible Steel, Manilla Sugar, United Drug and Virginia-Carolina Chemical, preferred, 1 1/2 to almost 2 points. Oils, the foreign group and the better grade of equipments and motors were strong. A sharp-point break in "300," a Canadian 4 1/2 point, broke into new low ground.

Halls and metals weakened at midday. Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Kansas City Southern, Norfolk and Western and Delaware and Hudson, fell 1 to 1 1/2. American Smelting extended its loss to 3 1/2 points and National Lead, Utah and Anaconda declined 1 1/2 to 3. Lackawanna Steel, Hile & Leather preferred, Sumatra Tobacco, Atlantic Gulf and Worthington Pump also were heavy.

West's Petroleum lost all its gain and additional two points later. Declines among rails, equipments and metals became extensive. The closing was weak.

MADDOO OPPOSES BILL

Expresses Disapproval of Administration's R. R. Refunding Measure in Letter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Disapproval of the administration's railroad refunding bill was expressed by William G. Maddoo, former director general of railroads, in a letter presented to the senate today by Senator Stanley, Democrat, Kentucky, who requested Mr. Maddoo's views after the committee refused to hear him.

Disagrees With Harding

The government is not "morally and legally bound" as stated by President Harding, to fund the $762,000,000 of the railroads over the government for additional bonds and betterments, Mr. Maddoo asserted. He declared "the president must have been misled into making such a statement," adding that the law provides for the funding only of "the remaining indebtedness" of the railroads, which he calculated at $253,000,000.

Payment of this balance, Mr. Maddoo said, may be deferred ten years by the railroads provided satisfactory security were given and six per cent interest were paid.

"This is the kind of settlement the law now authorizes and contemplates," Mr. Maddoo said, adding that when the railroads were returned to private control they owed the government $1,144,000,000 for additions and betterments of which $351,000,000 already has been expended for a long period. He urged that before any further advances were made the railroads be required to abandon the "inefficiency of labor" claims, amounting he estimated, to about $500,000,000.

"I suppose you realize that in addition to the $1,144,000,000 the railroads owe to the government for additions and betterments they have received additional loans under the Cash-Cummins bill of about $300,000,000, making a total of $1,444,000,000," Mr. Maddoo's letter said.

"Stripped of confusing non-essentials, what is now proposed is that the government shall wait ten years for $762,000,000 of the railroads for betterments and improvements and pay immediately $500,000,000 to the railroads on account of claims for alleged under-maintenance, etc., taking from the 130 or more railroads involved with varying degrees of financial responsibility, securities as they may be able to provide—securities which in many instances may not be adequate to protect the government against loss."

"This is not a question of legal and moral obligations on the part of the government," Mr. Maddoo said, "but a question of policy and should be considered from that standpoint only. For the adoption of such a policy the administration must, of course, take the responsibility. But the public mind should not be confused by juggling of figures, manipulation of accounts or securities, or governmental agencies."

U. S. Radio Officer Victim

LONDON, Aug. 24.—A full message announced that the badly burned body of "Ensign Marcus Astley," was taken to the mortuary. It added that Captain Swanton, the British officer who commanded the ZR-2, was unharmed. It is assumed here that by "Astley" is meant Lieutenant Marcus H. Estery, American radio officer, of Washington, D. C.

When the ZR-2 started on her trial flight from Howden Tuesday she had on board Commander Louis H. Maxfield of the United States navy, who has been designated by the American navy department to bring the ZR-2 from England to the United States; Brigadier General S. M. Maitland, the British air marshal; Colonel Campbell, who supervised the work of designing the dirigible; five other American officers, seven engineers and four riggers. In addition to the regular British crew.

The ZR-2 was the largest dirigible ever built, the dimensions being: Length, 635 feet; diameter, 55 feet; capacity, 2,000,000 cubic feet, total lifting capacity 33 tons.

The aircraft was operated by six engines. She was estimated to have a cruising radius of 60 miles an hour, giving a capacity to make an aggregate of 6000 miles of uninterrupted flight. She had a capacity for officers and crew of 42 men. The gasoline supply was 19,000 gallons. It was estimated that she would cross the Atlantic in 72 hours.

The huge aircraft had four gondolas suspended from the framework. These provided sleeping accommodations for the officers and electrical apparatus for cooking meals. Her wireless set was expected to keep the monster craft in touch with both shores of the Atlantic and to have a radius exceeding 2500 miles.

Seen in flight the ZR-2 closely resembled her sister ship, the R-34, with a bewildering collision of aluminum rows of gasoline and water tanks, acres of gas bags and a miscellany of guy wires, control valves, pipes, switches and hinges. A telephone system connected the entire airship so that the pilot at the wheel was in direct communication with every part of the craft.

A London dispatch of Sunday during the first trials of the ZR-2 a tendency to yaw was noted, and that an inspection revealed the fact that a certain section had bent and the lattice work had buckled under the strain. Remedial measures were taken the newspaper said, including considerable reinforcement of the frame work along much of the airship's length. In addition to the structural trouble, the Observer asserted the ZR-2 had been handicapped by engine difficulty.

The purchase price of the ZR-2 was to be $2,000,000. This, it is assumed, was to become effective after the aircraft had completed her trials and was delivered to and accepted by the American authorities. The British air service had been careful, to avoid a premature delivery, as they had wished to be assured that everything connected with the structural arrangement of the dirigible was in satisfactory condition.

It was for this reason chiefly that the flight which terminated so disastrously today was begun. The monetary loss under the circumstances, apparently falls on the contractors and these instrumental in building the ship.

cept the hospitality of his house in Lowell for a few days.

Pleasing Personality

The archbishop is of a vivacious and pleasing personality. He is of middle age and the cares of his high office have not apparently removed from him the joy of living or a keen interest in all human affairs. He does not speak English freely. He can understand fragments of the language and he reads it fluently but he confesses that he is completely at sea when an American tries to talk to him. The difficulty is partly eliminated, however, by the presence of Rev. Fr. Peter Abourah, a member of the archbishop's retinue, who in the four months that he has been in this country has mastered the language and is now able to act as interpreter to the archbishop.

As Interviewed

When interviewed by The Sun reporter, the archbishop expressed delight with all things American and especially with our form of government. "The American people are a great and remarkable nation," he said, "and their government is typical of them. It is my opinion that a democracy is the best government. I believe that you Americans have approached very near perfection on working out your present form of government."

The churchman was very enthusiastic in outlining his impressions of Lowell. "Poetic" was the word he used in describing the scenes that met his eyes as he came over the road from Lawrence in his automobile. The combination of the beautiful Merrimack river and the terraced embankment on the Belvidere side of the stream impressed him as one of the most beautiful scenes that has struck his eye in his travels. However, like most people who come over the road from Lawrence, the archbishop had one suggestion to offer. He intimated that his poetic impression of the city was marred by the holes in First street. With the exception of that one defect, however, his idea of Lowell is a good one and he says that he will carry away with him a very happy impression of this city.

Approves of Newspapers

The archbishop expressed approval of American newspapers. "The American press," he said, "is the best in the world. It conveys much useful and interesting information to the people and it must indeed be a great factor in the educational system of the country. The editorials impress me as being some of the sanest and wisest expressions of opinion that I have read. No wonder that this nation is so great and powerful when it has such wise and good men at the head of its newspapers."

Conditions in Syria, according to the archbishop, are better than they have been for many years. The Turks have been finally and definitely expelled from the country and under French rule things are rapidly getting back to a normal basis. A few years ago, however, the state of affairs in the country was a sad example of the inhumanity of the Turk.

Persecuted Christians

"One year ago," he said, "conditions in my poor country were very bad. The Mohammedans persecuted the Christians with all the fury of fiends. They destroyed whole villages, sacked cities and put men, women and children to the sword. It was with a feeling of the greatest joy that we saw the French troops march into the country and step by step we saw the Turks and their cowardly hordes of Turks. Since the occupation of the French army the country has been breathing freely again and I begin to hope for the day when Syria will be strong and powerful, as she was centuries ago. The archbishop has had much amusing experience in attempting to learn to speak English. "I would like you to tell me," he said last evening, "why the Americans and Englishmen pronounce their words so differently than they are spelled. If 'enough' is pronounced 'enuff,' then why isn't 'although' pronounced 'althuff'? When it was explained to him that he had pronounced a question which has troubled students of English for many hundreds of years he merely smiled and said the English is a very 'funny' language."

Came in April

The churchman came to this country last April as the result of a commission entrusted to him by His Holiness the Pope and since his arrival he has spent the time in an extensive tour to all parts of the country. He has visited many cities, including New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Washington, Detroit, Toledo, Akron, Utica, Manchester and Lawrence.

Last evening a dinner and reception was tendered him at the home of Mr. Courty in Colwell street. Large numbers of the faithful came from all parts of the city to receive the archbishop's blessing and to hear him tell of conditions in Syria. Many little children were among the visitors and he received them all with a pat on the head and a kindly word which sent them away radiant with happiness.

Rev. Fr. Peter Abourah, B. S., has accompanied the archbishop on his tour of the country, acting as his secretary and interpreter. The reverend father is connected with the diocese of Tyre and is one of the archbishop's lifelong friends and companions.

FOR RUSSIAN RELIEF PUNISHMENT OF SEN. REED TO BE SOUGHT

Plans for Co-ordination of Children's Organizations With Relief Association

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Plans for the co-ordination of the children's relief organizations interested in Russian relief with the American Relief Association were discussed today at a meeting of the European relief council with Secretary Hoover and Col. Wm. B. Haskell, who is to have charge of food distribution in Russia.

The organizations comprising the council are the American Friends service committee, which is already at work in Russia, American Red Cross Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, Jewish Joint Distribution committee, Knights of Columbus, Young Men's Christian Association, Catholic Welfare committee and the American Relief Administration.

They were asked by President Harding to co-operate under the relief administration in the work of fighting famine among the children of Russia in order that the interests of the people of both this country and Russia could best be served through coordinated activities and to avoid the organization of unnecessary associations for the collection of funds.

Colonel Haskell said today that he planned to sail from New York for Liverpool early next week and to proceed to Russia as quickly as possible after a conference in England with Walter Lyman Brown, European director of the administration, who negotiated the relief agreement with the soviet authorities at Riga.

At the start, he declared, the administration intends to feed one million Russian children, and this number would be increased as facilities and help would be under the direction of Secretary Hoover and the New York headquarters of the administration.

FOR RUSSIAN RELIEF PUNISHMENT OF SEN. REED TO BE SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The senate was requested yesterday in a resolution adopted by the house by a vote of 181 to 7, "to take appropriate action" concerning remarks of Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, during debate on the anti-beer bill last week, which the house held were "improper, unparliamentary and a reflection on the character" of Representative Volstead, republican.

It is the first time in history, so far as official records show, that the house has taken such action. On two previous occasions, however, it censured a representative for making uncompromising statements about senators and senate. In both incidents the offending remarks were eliminated from the Congressional Record by a house vote.

The resolution, which was offered by Representative Newton, republican, Minnesota, was adopted after brief debate, and was referred to the rules committee when it reached the senate. Mr. Reed made no comment concerning it.

Senator Reed's language, as printed in the Congressional Record, follows: "Until the other day I never had the pleasure of seeing the distinguished author of the Volstead act. His brief biography states that he was born in the United States. I am, however, informed he speaks a very broken English. I do not know what his ancestry may be, but I do know that I have gazed upon pictures of the celebrated conspirators of the past, the countenance of those who have led in fanatical crusades, the burners of witches, the executioners who applied the torch of persecution, and I saw them all again when I looked at the author of this bill."

"I have no respect for a man, whether he be a member of the house or elsewhere, who proposes to whittle down the constitution of the United States, who tries to take it, as does the amendment of the house, so that an officer can go into every building except a residence; who puts the discovery of a bottle of beer above the constitution; who, in the pursuit of his favorite pastime of hunting somebody who may take a drink, is willing to destroy that constitution which he held up his hand and before Almighty God swore he would maintain, protect and preserve."

"A man who thinks more of 'getting' a bootlegger than he does of preserving the palladium of human liberty and not fit to be a citizen of the United States. I have more respect for an anarchist, who, in his ignorance and blindness, stands upon a soap box proclaiming against all government, than I have for the man who will in this body, or in the house of representatives, swear before the Almighty that he will preserve the constitution of the United States, and then employ the authority and power the people vested in him to preserve the constitution for the purpose of destroying that sacred document."

The "speed" typewriter contest was for ten minutes' duration and was taken without special practice outside of the regular school work, that is, no special training for speed work.

With but two exceptions these students began last September. The subject matter in this contest was taken from the solid matter furnished by the Underwood Typewriter Company. This college does not enter outside speed competitions.

We are proud of our students who have attained this speed in less than ten months' work.

The winners of the loving cups we are also proud of for the amount of hard and excellent work put into this contest. Their work and the work of the other students will be on exhibition at the school all next week, August 28th to September 3rd. Classes for next term are now forming. Register at once.

NEAR END OF STRIKES

IN MASSACHUSETTS

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—An almost complete cessation of strikes in this state is noted by the state department of labor and industries, in a bulletin issued today.

During the month of August, the bulletin shows, there have been but eight strikes, and of these only one involved more than 100 employees.

Last month there were nine strikes, and in August, 1920, there were eighteen. "The surplus of labor," the department says, "makes it unwise to take definite strike action at this time."

Reports received by the department from building department officials in 33 cities show that the aggregate value of buildings for which permits were issued during July was $7,450,355, a slight decrease from the June figure of $7,555,111. There were increases in July over June, in fourteen of the cities, none of which were large except in the case of Northampton. The decreases in other cities were small except in Pittsfield, Springfield and Worcester. Springfield showed the second largest decrease from $724,355 to $179,465. Worcester's drop was from $1,637,192 to $1,290,545.

NO REASONS GIVEN

FOR RESIGNATIONS

A surprise came to members of local military circles last evening when it was asserted that Lieut. John J. Walsh and Eugene Savage had resigned from their posts in Battery B. It was also stated that Lieut. William Soule had relinquished his command in the combat train. No reasons have been given for the resignations.

At their meeting the non-commissioned officers voted to stress the need for installing drill grounds in this city if the local authorities wish to keep the battery here.

When gears are not fully engaged, they slip, gear teeth become worn and shaft bearings need adjustment.

Rogers Hall Girls Will Find School Home Changed After Vacation

NEW ADDITION TO ROGERS HALL SCHOOL

The new addition to the Rogers Hall school, planned more than a year ago to meet the fast growing demands for additional accommodations at the noted girls' school, is fast nearing completion and the school authorities are hopeful that when the school reopens on Oct. 5 the addition will be ready for occupancy.

Practically all of the exterior work on the structure has been completed and workmen are now engaged in labor inside the building. The new addition, which was designed by Crum & Ferguson of Boston, is a harmonious continuation of the style of the other stately buildings which make up the school group, even to the lofty white pillars at the entrance. So skillfully has the work been done that a stranger would never know that the addition had not always been a part of the main building.

The new structure faces Fort Hill avenue with one side of it clearly observable through an opening in the trees on the Rogers street side of the school grounds. It is two and a half stories high, measuring some 36 feet from ground to roof. It is built on a concrete foundation. The building is of wooden construction and is 63 feet and 3 inches long and 28 feet, 8 inches wide.

The builder was James Whittier of this city. The approximate cost was $30,000.

The new building is designed to provide a dining room, kitchen and sleeping rooms and will thus allow more room in the other buildings for school work and dormitories. The addition is the second structure to be added to the school group within recent years as it was but a short time ago that the school's beautiful gymnasium was dedicated.

The constant growth of the school, which is now known from one end of the country to the other and which has numbered young women from practically every state of the Union in its student body, has necessitated the erection of the addition about to be completed.

ZR-2 Driven From Course by Storm

PULHAM, England, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—The giant dirigible ZR-2, which was expected to arrive here at dawn and complete the trial trip begun yesterday morning at Howden, was apparently driven from her course by a terrific electrical and rain storm early this morning. The airship, however, reported herself safe off Howden shortly after 8 o'clock. It is not expected here that the dirigible will start for America before August 30, at least.

Greeks Continue Advance in Asia Minor

ATHENS, Aug. 24.—Greek operations against the Turkish nationalists in Asia Minor will be completed within a month, at the present rate of progress, declared M. Theotokis, minister of war, in talking with newspapermen here last night. He asserted that the Turkish forces opposing the Greeks might be estimated to number about 60,000. The minister said the Greeks intended to go to Angora, but did not plan to remain there, the object of taking the capital of the Turkish nationalists being to secure guarantees against any action which would violate decisions reached by the entente powers.

CUPID AIMS AT YOUNG

City Clerk Flynn's Records Show That Marriageable Age is Not Increasing

It's the day of the young man and the young woman in Lowell, judging from the marriage license records of City Clerk Flynn.

The youngsters are outstripping the "oldsters" when it comes to taking the decisive step that leads to the supposed blissful state. It is true that marriages are made in heaven, the average couple are not anxious to wait very long after their arrival on this sphere to take advantage of the celestial bliss. Young men and women in their teens hesitate less to become united than those who have crossed the 40-year line. Many Lowell youngsters are assuming the responsibilities of married life at the age of 18 while the people between the 40 and 50 mark pause and consider before they agree to have the lovers' knot permanently tied.

Majority of People
Of course, the majority of people being married in Lowell are between 20 and 30. Between 30 and 40 the records show that there are also many marriages, but beyond that age there are fewer couples taking out licenses.

Take, for instance, the period from June 1 of this year up to the present time. This is the period of the year in which there are usually more marriages than in any other. Since June 1, 45 people were married less than 20 years of age were granted licenses to marry. During the same period 11 licenses were granted to only 34 people who had passed the 40 mark.

A Year Ago
A year ago in the period between June 1 and Aug. 24 there were more marriages of both oldsters and youngsters but the proportion remained about the same. Sixty-three young men and women less than 20 years of age were granted marriage licenses and only 45 individuals more than 40 years old expressed their intention to become united.

The oldest couple in either period to be granted a license filed their intentions early this month. The man was 75 and his bride-to-be 62. The youngest couple got their license last summer. The bridegroom was 18 and the girl 14.

A glance through Clerk Flynn's marriage intention records for the other months of the year shows the same facts—there are more very young than very old people getting married, but the great majority of marriages are of people between 20 and 40.

TO COMPLETE DRAFT OF R. R. STRIKE BALLOT

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—The chief executives of the five big railroad transportation labor organizations resumed their conference here this morning with members of British executive committees and assistant grand officers in an effort to complete the draft of a strike ballot to be presented to the 405,000 active members throughout the country. The ballot probably will be mailed early next week for a referendum vote.

Decision to draft the strike ballot resulted from unsatisfactory negotiations held in the past few months between the chiefs and railroad managers following the recent 12½ per cent cut in wages by the United States Railway labor board.

STOLEN SAFE FOUND IN BILLERICA WOODS

Rifted of its contents, a safe supposed to be the one stolen Friday night from the Ginter Grocery company store at Medford, was discovered in the Billerica woods. An employee of the Alexander farm, on the premises of which the safe had been placed, made the discovery yesterday evening. The bottom had been smashed in and everything save a few worthless papers had been abstracted. Money and valuable documents were removed.

Chief Livingston of the Billerica police was notified of the find, and in turn reported to the Medford authorities, who removed the safe to police headquarters in that town. From indications in the underground, an auto truck was evidently the means of conveyance used by the robbers.

American automobile manufacturers want the 45 per cent income duty reduced to 20 per cent.

WOMEN WHO OVERWORK

"Man may work from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done." In order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children well dressed and tidy, women continually overdo and suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they need help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine with specific value which overcomes many of the worst forms of female complaints, as the letters constantly being published in this paper will prove.—Adv.

75 ASPIRANTS FOR TILDEN'S LAURELS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Four members of the Australian Davis cup tennis team, which will meet Japan in the final round for that trophy, today entered the national singles championship tournament to be held at Germantown Cricket club starting September 7. The Australians are Captain Norman Peach, J. O. Anderson, J. B. Hawkes, and J. Todd.

Ignacio Dela Borbolla, of Mexico City, was another who sent in his entry today. The list of aspirants for William T. Tilden's laurels now totals 75.

THE SUPREMACY OF LAW

Occasionally it happens that a number of heinous crimes occur about the same time and in the same state or district so as to suggest the existence of a crime wave, a period of lawlessness when day after day the people are shocked by reports of highway robberies, criminal assaults, abductions, and homicides. It is not often that such a condition is found in Massachusetts, but within the past few weeks so many crimes of this nature have occurred, that the people have been deeply stirred, and some of the most quiet communities of the commonwealth have shown unmistakable signs of indignation, if not of a spirit of vengeance, that at least in one case, threatened summary punishment upon the culprits captured by the police.

This was the case at Wareham, where a crowd some hundreds strong, gathered at the local jail and threatened to lynch one of the Cape Verde men arrested for the hold-up of William O. Eldredge and a young lady companion, the robbery of Eldredge and criminal assault upon the girl. As both were well known and highly respected in the locality in which they resided, it was no wonder that indignation ran high; but apparently it exceeded the usual bounds in such demonstrations when the crowd threatened to lynch one of the prisoners. Such a crime as that is liable to occur almost anywhere at anytime and hence it does not bring any special disgrace upon the town, city or state in which it occurs. But as to a lynching in old, staid, law-abiding Massachusetts, that would stamp an everlasting stain upon the escutcheon of the old Bay State.

A few highwaymen may come in here and conspire to commit a foul crime in defiance of law; but for any body of citizens to combine to take the law into their own hands, for the punishment of the criminals—that would stand as a lasting disgrace to the community and state in which it occurred; and if in Massachusetts far more of a disgrace to the entire nation than would be a lynching in some southern state. It was not surprising, therefore, that Governor Cox as soon as he found any sign of such a mob sentiment, hastened to issue a proclamation rebuking the demonstration as more dangerous to society and the supremacy of law than the crime for which it threatened summary vengeance.

Lynchings are unfortunately numerous, chiefly in the southern states. There were 83 cases of lynching in 1919, with 145 in 1912 and 88 in 1903. That is a black record which stands as a disgrace to our government in the eyes of other nations, some of which do not understand the conditions that obtain in the south and believe that the same disregard of law prevails all over the land. It would indeed be a cause of utter ignominy to every patriotic and law-abiding citizen of Massachusetts if our state were included in the category of the lynching states, where prisoners are taken from the jails by furious mobs and strung up by the neck, riddled with bullets or still worse, as has occurred within the past year, burned to death in the center of a bonfire.

In each and every case of this kind, the supremacy of law is overthrown, and the will of the mob is the only law; but the Massachusetts spirit, as evidenced in the governor's proclamation in the Wareham case, is above such barbarities no matter how great the provocation. Even among states, the force of example has a potent influence for good or evil, and if Massachusetts had a lynching it would not be long before some other northern state would experience a similar lapse to mob rule.

In Massachusetts, the administration of justice may be slow as it is in most states; but when an atrocious crime such as that which stirred the people of Wareham, is brought before the bar of justice, the machinery of the courts is usually accelerated and the majesty of the law is promptly asserted. We had an example of this here in Lowell in the Tallen murder. So it is, therefore, that not even the law's delays nor any miscarriage of justice can justify mob rule or the spirit that would prompt the people to take the law into their own hands. In the grand old Bay State especially, it is important that at all times, in all places and under all circumstances, the supremacy of the law be everywhere asserted, upheld and maintained.

STARVING RUSSIA

In the Russia of today, there is an example of the lack of capital. When the Bolshevik leaders overthrew the government which succeeded that of the czar, they wreaked particular vengeance upon what they termed the Bourgeoisie class, or the people who were supposed to have accumulated more or less wealth. They were plundered and many of them were also murdered; but now the leaders have the money and probably realize their error, for the reason that the capitalists who formerly conducted the railroads and most of the manufacturing enterprises of the country, have been banished or slain, and there is nobody fitted to take up the work which they had in hand. As a result, a large portion of Russia is fast to face with starvation and has little or no prospect of permanent relief. The United States has agreed to send food to Russia for the purpose of relieving the people who are said to be dying of starvation in large numbers and it is possible for the purpose of saving the millions who, unless relief comes, must perish of hunger during the coming winter. It will take two or three years more perhaps to convince the people of Russia that they have been following false leaders and that they have been led into a wilderness, so to speak, from which it will be very difficult to emerge. The other powers have decided that it is best not to attempt any form of intervention for the reason that the Bolshevik leaders never appear so favorably before the people as when leading them against a supposed enemy, and particularly against some foreign power supposed to have selfish designs upon Russian territory. It is deplorable that such a vast nation should be so deluded by supposed reformers who promised that freedom would bring peace, prosperity and happiness. On the contrary the brand of freedom offered by Trotsky and Lenin has brought only bloodshed, rapine, starvation and a state of anarchy from which the people are helpless to free themselves.

All this is the direct result of following fanatical leaders whose dream of a social paradise has been the delusion of thousands of people, as on trial it has always brought disappointment and misery. Russia is now cleared of capitalists, socialism is applied without any restriction and the whole world can see the result.

OUR PEACE TREATY

There is much secrecy in reference to the negotiations of a peace treaty with Germany. Only a few officials in this country know anything about it. The aim seems to be to secure from Germany a treaty that will serve the same purpose as the Versailles treaty and yet fail to give that treaty any sanction or endorsement. The fact that we have already declared that the state of war between this nation and Germany no longer exists, will put us in the position of a collector who calls upon a debtor for payment after he has signed the latter a receipted bill. The matter of damages for the Lusitania outrage has been broached to

Why They Go

His mother goes to church each week To study every hat and frock, But little Willie, by her side, If only there to watch the clock.

And father goes to church To take a little deer, While sister goes to show her clothes And smirkl at all her beaux.

And brother William goes along, All dolled up in his Sunday clothes He doesn't sleep or watch the clock He goes because his sister goes.

Perhaps John D. Rockefeller goes, Because it gives him pleasure great, To show his generosity And put a nickel on the plate.

Cowards

"The Hare and the Frog," one of the serenaded fables of Aesop points a moral in an amusing way. The hare is a coward, afraid of his own shadow. He shows other animals of the field. Frogs startle him. He is about to flee when he is suddenly inspired by bravery. He turns upon them. Surprised they flee.

The hare gives chase and is about to catch them when they come to a place that allows them to continue to flee. The frogs turn to face their pursuer.

The rabbit is surprised. His cowardly returns. He turns tail and runs away.

That's the way with many of our human cowards. We try to bluff and when our bluff is called, we meekly surrender.

Unrequited

"Twas summer-time, and earth from her wardrobe lent Her choicest garb, and as I went Toward the old barred gate, the trying place,

I saw once more the form and face Of her I loved so well, when as a boy, Life held for me an untold joy. Until that day when she her plighted word Broke faith with me, and plunged the sword

Deep into the vitals of my heart. With words which rent asunder apart, I pleaded, stormed, beseeched again, But all my efforts were in vain. She went away to parts unknown, And I—I wandered alone.

Nor found I one to take her place, And creeping years rolled on apace, And faltering steps still found me as a youth unloved and lone.

The faithful lover who had kept his trust Until the end, and despite a fickle fate, Worshipped anew at the old barred gate, For hope to whom he shattered dreams Bids faith live on, we'll meet again, so be it, heaven.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

"I hate to send a man away," Judge Enright, of the local police court said to me one morning after the session was over and he had decided to suspend the jail sentence he had imposed on one defendant, and give the chap one more chance. All judges have not this humanitarian attitude, it is to be feared. Some whom I have seen in action appear to dread lest a little leniency now and then, when circumstances seem to warrant it, might foster wrongdoing. But my experience in many police courts has led me to the conviction that this is not the case. In fact, precisely the contrary is true, as far as I have been able to observe. Many a man who has committed a more or less condemnable act determines never to repeat it when he has been shown that the public, as represented by judges, wants to give him all the opportunity possible, even to the extent of "taking a chance on him" after he has incurred punishment. Fellows come into court for the first time. They expect harshness will follow from their violation of the rights of their fellow citizens. Instead, the judge is most reluctant to put them and their families, if convinced that they will turn over a new leaf and not repeat their offense, the court is willing to temper justice with mercy. I feel certain that the majority of first offenders so treated never return as culprits. They feel ashamed of having come into conflict with the officers of the law, when the public's representative displays a disposition to give them every benefit of the possibility that they will not again infringe. But if they are "jumped on," the matter becomes to many of them a sort of bitter contest. They decide to put away "with" everything they own, and defy the law to catch up with them. A good judge is one who knows when the wind can be tempered to the shorn lamb, whilst at the same time the public weal and safety can be conserved. Go to the local court sometime and attend a sitting. I think you'll be convinced that we have this desirable system in Lowell.

STREET REPAIRS

Now's the time to get some of our worst streets put in proper condition. The defeat of the paving-by-contract proposition does not mean that the extravagant methods are endorsed or to be continued. On the contrary, it was claimed by the opponents that street work of any kind and street paving in particular, could be done as cheaply in Lowell as anywhere. Certainly it can, and that is why the people cannot understand why it should cost so much more here than elsewhere. The taxpayers of Lowell want to see a fair return for the money expended whether in the street department or in any other.

If Supl. Bowers gets a free hand, he will show results, but if he has to deal with relays of green men, he can accomplish nothing except at an exorbitant cost.

There is an open rupture between Costa Rica and Panama on the settlement of a boundary dispute. Uncle Sam is down there to prevent the two states from getting into a fight. For Uncle Sam it is like preventing two school boys from punching each other, and yet an occurrence less important was made the pretext for launching the world war. We cannot afford to start a war on this continent while we have projected a movement for disarmament.

If by holding off on its meetings, the municipal council can stave off the special election on the initiative question till October 13, the date on which the people will vote on the new charter, it will save the city at least $15,000. By some it is feared that this may endanger the adoption of the charter; but the electorate should have no difficulty in passing upon the two questions at the same time.

If Hoover saves Russian millions from starvation, the soviet market will give the credit to the Trotsky regime which caused the famine conditions.

We bow to the Lowell district court and hope it will be recognized as a model of its kind in dealing out even-handed justice to all comers.

PLANES BEAT WARSHIPS

Big Gun Has Been Surpassed by Bomb-bearing Airplanes

BY HARRY HUNT
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The big gun, as a projector of destructive missiles, has been surpassed by the bomb-bearing airplane.

Recent tests have proved this beyond dispute. The biggest guns, either in the navy or in coast fortifications, fire projectiles 15 inches in diameter, weighing 2100 pounds.

The latest model bombing planes, however, can launch a projectile of twice the weight and four times the destructive force of the 16-inch high-explosive shell.

These monster bombs measure just one inch less than 14 feet in length and have a body diameter of 23 inches.

Unlike the high-explosive shell, the airplane bomb is virtually all explosive.

Cheap by Comparison

The 4000-pound bomb, for instance, exclusive of the head, which contains the fuse cap, and the rudder-like tail which steers it in flight, is made from 3/4-inch drawn steel tubing. Except for this thin wall, the entire 23 inches of its body diameter is crammed with TNT, making a simple and comparatively cheap engine of destruction.

The high-explosive shell, however, for firing from high-calibered guns, must be finely machined to insure accuracy and safety. It can contain a much smaller bulk of explosive for destructive purposes than an airplane bomb, and it requires from $150 to $300 worth of powder to send it on its way.

A 14-inch navy gun costs, unmounted, about $200,000. The 12-inch costs somewhat less, the 16-inch somewhat more. Mounted, these big guns stand Uncle Sam close to a quarter of a million each.

Their maximum effective range may be set down as 20 miles. Even that is not possible without the assistance of aircraft as range-finders.

Difference in Price

For the cost of one of these big guns, ten bombing planes, capable of carrying 4000-pound bombs in a flight of four hours can be built. These planes have a radius of attack of about 200 miles.

The life of the $250,000 big gun is about 100 shots. The life of the $25,000 bombing plane is about 1000 hours of flying, or 100,000 miles.

The comparative personnel required to maintain and serve the big gun or the big plane is not far different. The bombing plane has reached its present development in 10 years. The big gun has reached its present stage in 1000 years.

These are facts the government's military experts have before them as they work on our future armament policy.

21 MEN FLEE FOR LIVES

Damage of $100,000 Caused by Explosion and Fire at Chelsea

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—Damage of $100,000 was caused when an explosion started fire in the factory of the United Indigo and Chemical company at the corner of Cabot street and Broadway, Chelsea, yesterday afternoon. During the blaze 21 men were forced to flee for their lives.

Two alarms were sounded for the blaze and help was summoned from Revere to check the flames, which had a great start owing to the defective fire alarm system. John J. Cowan, manager of the factory, ran to Box 38, which is situated in front of the factory, and pulled the hook, calling to hear the signal strike he ran to a telephone to summon the firemen.

When the firemen under Chief David M. Hudson arrived, the building was a mass of flames and smoke was pouring forth from all sides. The firemen were stifled by the smoke, and their hands and faces were soon covered with dye. The fire had such a good start that the firemen were unable to stop it until the building was practically destroyed. Cars were held up two hours by the apparatus.

The building is a two-story brick one and the fire is believed to have started in the rear of the first floor from a spark from an electric motor setting fire to some dyes and causing an explosion. The place was filled with dry material, which burned like paper.

The loss was estimated at $100,000 by J. A. Lull, manager of the company.

The greater number of the employees were working in a room next to the one in which the explosion occurred, and they jumped through the windows and escaped injury.

The Revere firemen aided the Chelsea forces greatly in extinguishing the flames, which rose high in the air and threatened for a time to spread to buildings in the vicinity. Chief Kimball of Revere had just started his "Humper" preparing for a trip to New Hampshire, when the chief's car came to the house for him. He left the "Humper" engine running to respond to the fire. When he returned the engine was still running.

More than 300 sectional clubs are affiliated with the Radio League, the members of which operate more than 6,600 amateur wireless stations, from Florida to Alaska.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Aug. 24.—Engineer Douglas Armstrong of Grand Junction was killed and 25 passengers were injured in a wreck of Denver and Rio Grande westbound passenger train number 1, about 13 miles east of here early today. The statement admitted that the Spanish had "suffered some losses" in the encounter, which is reported to have been one of the sharpest battles as yet fought in northeastern Morocco.

Ex-Emperor Charles Planning for Restoration of Crown in Hungary

Greek King's Action Precedent in Scheme for Resumption of Royal Status

PARIS, Aug. 24.—Former Emperor Charles has planned with Admiral Horthy, the Hungarian regent, a restoration of the crown in Hungary, says the Geneva correspondent of the Journal. The return of King Constantine to Greece is declared to have been made the precedent in the scheme for Charles' resumption of royal status. The papal nuncio in Bern, it is asserted, was the intermediary between Charles and the regent.

Hungary will appear at the meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations in Geneva next month and ask for admission, says the correspondent in outlining the alleged plan. In the event this appeal is granted, the Hungarian parliament would be dissolved and the government would call for an election in which the dynasty question would be the principal issue. It is assumed by the royalists that they would be victorious and that the election would be followed by a call to Charles to take the Hungarian throne.

A vote on the part of the senate, it is said, would be met by an appeal to the League of Nations, which would be asked to uphold the principle of self-determination and permit Charles to reign in Hungary. The "little emperors" composed of Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia and Rumania, threatened to declare war on Hungary when Charles attempted to resume the throne last March, and should they repeat this threat after Charles has been called from Switzerland, the League would be asked to avert hostilities.

The correspondent asserts that Charles has no intention of quitting Switzerland for Spain or any other country, as his present residence is ideally located for the carrying on of the alleged plans.

WINS BATTLE WITH BEAR

Ex-Gov. Osborne of Mich.
Triumphs After Desperate
Struggle in St. Mary's River

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ontario, Aug. 24.—Former Governor Charles F. Osborne, of Michigan, engaged in a desperate hand to hand battle in St. Mary's river Monday with a black bear and emerged victorious only after stunning the animal with blows from an axe, then choking it to death with his hands.

Mr. Osborne, who is 51 years old and said to be an expert on bear hunting, was alone in a small boat when the bear appeared, swimming toward him. Witnesses on shore saw the animal nearly capsize the boat as it attempted to climb aboard while Mr. Osborne brought the axe down several times on its head. Realizing that his blows were having no effect, the hunter finally seized the bear by its throat and held on until the animal was dead.

CONGRESS EXPECTED TO RECESS TONIGHT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Congress was expected, barring unforeseen developments, to recess tonight for thirty days. Both the senate and house when they met today were confronted with a number of miscellaneous matters which it was the aim of leaders to dispose of before declaring a recess but it was indicated that if the senate was not wiped clean the long-anticipated vacation would be deferred.

The senate upon reconvening resumed debate on the anti-beer bill while the house waited principally for reports of the conference on different bills. Among the looked-for conference reports were the shipping board deficit bill of $15,000,000, and the agricultural credits measure, which was deferred last night. In addition the senate hoped to complete action on extending the dye embargo provision of the emergency tariff to January 1 next and possibly to vote an extension of the emergency tariff itself to that date.

Indications when the senate met today were that the anti-beer bill would be shelved until fall. The deadlock on the agricultural credits bill, however, was regarded with concern by leaders in both houses because of their desire for its immediate passage. The chief difficulty was in house objection to a senate provision authorizing the war finance corporation to make export to a European association, the house insisting that these should be made to Americans only. Senate and house leaders took a hand in the situation late last night but with what result was not indicated.

Representative Mann, republican, Illinois, in this connection, issued a warning to his colleagues that their chances of getting away on a new must depend upon this conference.

Less than half of the automobiles stolen in New York in the last six months have been recovered.

Lowell Morris Plan Company

ANNOUNCES A NEW

Savings, Investment and Insurance Contract Combining Thrift, Investment and Safety*What Is the Insured Morris Plan Way?

It is savings, investment and life insurance combined in one contract. Under this plan you can purchase the 5% Investment Certificate of the Morris Plan Company in multiples of $500 to $5000 and pay for them in sixty months from small monthly savings, during which time you will be insured in The Morris Plan Insurance Society for the full amount of your investment, and at the same time earn 5% interest on your money. It is one of the safest and surest investments you can make.

How It Is Done

You make application to the Morris Plan Company for a $500, 5% Investment Certificate to be protected by life insurance in The Morris Plan Insurance Society, for which you agree to pay $8.00 per month for sixty months. The Morris Plan Insurance Society will then issue you a life insurance policy of $500 on which the company will make the premium payments for you, as provided in your contract. If you should die before you complete the payments on your contract, the Insurance Society will pay your estate $500, and the company will pay your estate all the money you paid in with 5% interest. You pay $8.00 per month for each $500, 5% Investment Certificate subscribed for.

Your Monthly Payment Covers Everything

The total cost of the $500, 5% Investment Certificate and the $500 of Life Insurance for five years for persons 21 to 40 years of age inclusive, is $540, but you pay only $8.00 per month for sixty months, making a total of $480. The interest on your monthly payments makes up the difference. The monthly payments of $8.00 covers everything. Your monthly payments will bear 5% interest from the date each payment is made, and the company will compound and credit the interest on your Contract on the first of January and July in each year. Persons 41 to 45 years of age inclusive, pay $2.00 extra with the first payment in each year; persons 46 to 50 pay $4.00 extra with the first payment in each year and persons 51 to 55 pay $8.00 extra with the first payment in each year.

How It Works

If you had made only one payment of $8.00 on your Contract and should die the next day after the policy is issued, your beneficiary or estate would receive $500. If you should die after having made twelve monthly payments of $8.00 each, your beneficiary or estate would receive $500 and $90.21 in cash. If you should die after having made thirty-six payments of $8.00 each, your beneficiary or estate would receive $500 and $284.56 in cash, or if you should die before the end of the fifth year, after having made sixty payments of $8.00 each, your beneficiary or estate would receive $1000 in cash. If you subscribe for more than one Certificate, your cash and insurance values will be increased in the same proportion.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Final performances of "The Foolish Warnings," starring Robert Bosworth and Doris May, together with "Moonlight and Mistletoe," featuring Mary Miles Minter, will be given at the Merrimack Square theatre this evening. Tomorrow there will be an entire change of program.

The leading attraction for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be "Dangerous Toys," starring William Desmond and Margaret Clayton, and "The Magic Cup," with Constance Binney in the leading role.

"Dangerous Toys" is the story of a wife who becomes a fashion model so she can wear the expensive clothes her husband cannot afford to buy her.

During her working hours she makes the acquaintance of the banker for whom her husband works, and he promises that she accept his offer of a limited time during which all of his wealth shall be at her disposal. At the end of the time she shall be free to choose to continue the life or go back to her husband.

With the most honorable of motives, the wife accepts the offer, at the same time telling her husband that she is going out of town for her firm to a fashion show. The husband overhears some men at his club telling that his wife is at the apartment of the banker.

He rushes there and finds her. From that point on, the drama maintains its high-water mark of sustained action. Events follow, one on the heels of the other, sensational situations develop, up to the smashing finish. "Dangerous Toys" is a tense picture, which will keep spectators gripped the sides of their seats.

A modern city Cinderella is the heroine of "The Magic Cup," the other feature for the week-end. The Prince Charming in this case is a cub reporter and they meet, not at a ball, as in the old fairy story, but in the unromantic atmosphere of a hotel kitchen. The male lead opposite Miss Binney is played by Vincent Coleman.

A comedy, "Short and Snappy," and the International News complete the bill.

Beginning on Thursday, matinee, and continuing the remainder of the week there will be an entire change of bill, with Corinne Griffith in "What's Your Reputation Worth?" and Earle Williams in "It Can't Be Done." The former is the strange story of a girl so impressed by a weird dream that she made it come true. She gave her reputation to a man she loved in order that he might find happiness. She had a hard struggle and went through many unusual adventures before she also found happiness. Miss Griffith, known as "the best dressed woman of the screen" has an excellent role. The offering is a veritable fashion show as well as a great story. "It Can't Be Done" is one of the most pleasing photoplays of the year, filled with suspense and springing a series of surprises in rapid succession. The characters are true to life, while the story shows that truth holds more real excitement than fiction. The

How Old Are You*By Your Hair?

You may be only thirty, but if bald-headed, gray, or your hair is brittle, scraggly and ugly-looking, people will surely take you to be much older.

If you want a lot of good-looking, vitalized and kept properly nourished, to do this quickly and safely, get from your druggist a bottle of Parisian sage. A little attention now will insure plenty of beautiful hair for years to come.

Parisian sage is guaranteed to keep away all dandruff, stop scalp itch and falling hair and stimulate a new growth, or money refunded. It's in great demand by discriminating women because it makes the hair soft, lustrous, easy to arrange attractively and appear much younger than it really is.

Parisian sage is easy to use, not sticky and faintly perfumed—an antiseptic, clean liquid that supplies all hair needs.—Adv.

Hearts of Nova Scotia Salts Set On Winning Cup

WILLIAM H. DENNIS, DONOR OF THE CUP FOR THE INTER-NATIONAL FISHERMEN'S RACE.

THE "BLUENOSE" ON WHICH NOVA SCOTIANS DEPEND TO WIN BACK CUP FROM AMERICAN DEFENDERS.

TROPHY CUP WHICH FISHING SCHOONERS RACE FOR IN OCTOBER.

By Newspaper Enterprise
HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, Aug. 24.—Nova Scotians have decided that the month of September is too early for their fishermen's races.

The fleet will be on the Grand Banks, battling against the autumn gales, hauling their catch and working feverishly against time, when they will make their run for sport.

The middle of October has been finally set for their elimination series; the victor will face the selection of the Gloucester fleet.

Whether it will be the "Bluenose" against the "Mayflower" is problematical.

Long Road
The vessels have a long and hard road to travel before they can meet each other off Halifax Harbor.

Last year nine schooners contested the series on behalf of the Canadians and the pride of the fleet was the "Delawanna" of Lunenburg.

The Americans snapped up the subsequent challenge so readily that they had no time for an elimination race; the "Esperanto" now a total wreck on the shoals of Sable Island, was immediately chosen, fixed up, sent off to Halifax and in two races but the Nova Scotians are all out.

gathered in The Halifax Herald's trophy and departed for Gloucester.

Hopeful for a win this year. The "Bluenose" is a fisherman from whom much is expected. No doubts are expressed as to her ability to gather in the elimination series—but nothing is more uncertain than ocean racing.

Captain Angus Walters, skipper of the "Bluenose," is confident that his vessel will justify all the hopes entertained for her. With characteristic Nova Scotia reticence, however, he merely says that "he thinks she can race."

Real Salt
This is the type of race beloved of fishermen, the event that occupies the mind of the salt on the wharves of New England and Nova Scotia from one year's end to the other.

There is nothing of the parlor-yachtman variety about it. And that is the race that is going to be witnessed this year off Halifax harbor between representatives of the United States and Canada.

The date of the International Series for The Halifax Herald's trophy is October 22nd, and those who know the north Atlantic off Halifax in that month know also that it is no place for either frolic or dainty bits of garden-pond construction.

QUIMET AND REILLY WIN

Large Gallery at Longmeadow Sees Hendry and Stein of Nashua Beaten

Before a gallery of several hundred, at Longmeadow yesterday afternoon, Francis Quimet and Woodland Hendry, together with P. W. Reilly, Jr., of Vesper, defeated James Hendry and Joseph Stein, both of the Nashua Country club five up and three to play in an 18 hole contest. Steady rather than brilliant was the brand of golf offered to the fans. All participants in the foursome seemed to find difficulty with their putts, despite the apparent keen condition of the green. Even Quimet had hard luck in this respect, and the result showed on his card. He might have made up for his misfortunes on the green, had he not sliced into some rocks near the finish of the contest. Seven for this hole, the second last, was the best he could do, and with five for the final hole his second round fared worse than his first.

John M. O'Donoghue acted as announcer, while Henry J. Farrell presided at the greens. The cards were:

Quimet	5	3	4	4	3	5	4	37
Reilly	4	3	4	3	5	4	3	36
Hendry	5	3	4	5	6	5	5	42
Stein	5	4	4	3	5	5	5	40

The famous Cornets of Lynn, one of the strongest independent ball teams in the state, is desirous of getting a game with Manager Mickey Coughlin's C. C. club. A communication to this effect was sent to the Cornets by the Lynn manager points to five great games with the James S. Hayes council, as an indication of the class of his outfit. In five games each team won twice while the other battle went to a draw.

The Hayes council team plays here next Saturday in an attempt to avenge a 1 to 0 defeat suffered earlier in the season, and the Cornets would like to come here the following week.

The Hayes council has set up a splendid record this season and feels confident of triumphing over the knights here next Saturday. They will bring their strongest lineup to Lowell, but the event of winning will immediately challenge the team to a third, or rubber game, to be played later in the season.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Nick Arie of Kingman, Ariz. won the American amateur championship at single targets at the annual American handicap trapshoot yesterday. He broke 133 of a possible 200 targets. His brother, Bill Arie of Champaign, Ill., who earlier had won the American professional championship at double targets, tied A. Killian of Lewis for the professional single title.

Both Arie and Killian broke 50 straight targets in two shoot-offs, but in the third test Arie defaulted the target when he refused to shoot at a target after he had fired it.

The single championship was open to state champions, and in their absence to state runners-up. Nick Arie by his victory wins a diamond medal emblematic of the title of the American Trapshooting Association.

SUZANNE MAY NOT PLAY

French Tennis Star Suffers Relapse and May Soon Return to France

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Possibility that Suzanne Lenglen, French tennis star, may return to France without appearing again on an American court, loomed today when it was learned that she had suffered a relapse in the bronchial trouble which caused her to leave the U.S. Open.

She had appeared in the first round of the C.M.A.C.-Broadway series last Saturday, only that he expects to have Frankie McPherson in the infield, and he is confident of winning from the up river club.

CALIFORNIA IS IN THE TENNIS LIMELIGHT

California leads in tennis "reals" as well as movie "reals" in the national championship.

Three California women fought to the last ditch in the national championship.

A girl of 15 summers and pistols captured the junior national title. Her home is in sunny "Cal" too.

And that isn't all. The Kinsey brothers and Little Bill Johnston are cleaning up on the easterners.

And it isn't a dead clinch at Johnston won't upset the great Tilden, world champion, in the coming matches at Forest Hills.

TANK-MADE

Johnny Welsmuller, Chicago A.C. sprint swimmer, has taken the "kings" out of Duke Kahanamoku.

The new water-star set a record by swimming 100 yards in 32.4 seconds.

He has been able to coach, being a running mate for Norman Ross.

But he learned quickly. He is tall, rangy. He cuts the water like a blade.

The Duke is a born swimmer. Welsmuller is a tank-made star.

HOPES

New York has turned to the Tanker for the fulfillment of its pennant hopes.

The Glants have been staggering about. Kelly has hit three homers with the bases loaded so far this season.

But Kelly can't handle a whole ball club with a jazz-bat.

The Yankees with the colorful Babe Ruth are shaving the top.

If the Huggins can't cut the buck this year, it's time to rent or starve and hire less colorful fellows who can hit, run, bases, and do more all-round baseball tumbling.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNAMENT

WESTMORELAND COUNTRY CLUB, Evansville, Ind., Aug. 24.—Play in the second round of the Women's Western Golf Association championship tournament opened the third day of the matches in progress here.

A feature much was that of Miss Miriam Burns of Kansas City vs. Miss Louise Fergus of Glenview.

Miss Burns, the 17-year-old girl who had a game with last year's champion, yesterday eliminated Mrs. Fred C. Lett, wife of Ontario, defending the title, apparently had a slight advantage over Miss Fergus, especially if she plays the game she exhibited against the former champion.

"One Fighter Shouldn't Second Another," Says Gibbons

By TOMMY GIBBONS
Light Heavyweight Contender
OSAKIS, Minn., Aug. 24.—There is only one man in my corner when I fight.

That man is Eddie Kane, my manager.

Fighters make a mistake by holding a buzzing bee in their corner between rounds.

The one minute's rest is meant to rest, to regain pulse and to make plans for the next round.

Kane is an ideal kind of adviser. He is cool, quick to see an opponent's weakness and has the knack of imparting the spark of confidence.

He will be in my corner when I fight Carpenter for the light heavyweight title.

And he will be in Mike's corner when he fights for the middleweight title.

Mike used to be in my corner always when I fought. He gave me my start. We've gone through a lot of tough ones together.

He has to be a real T.I. get knocked out. That would have hurt him, as much as me.

Break

But I firmly believe it is wrong for brothers to second each other. The bond of sympathy is too strong between them for one thing.

Then Mike is a fighter. That's the main objection I have to it. No two fighters work alike.

Mike, for instance, has his own effective style. Quite usually he figures I should follow his system.

Now Mike and I are built differently. Our bones are different, our muscles are not developed alike.

A punch which he finds effective doesn't get results for me.

He used to want me to swing a certain kind of a right. I never could gain effectiveness with it.

Can't Copy

My arm turns out differently than his. My shoulder bones and muscles are not hung together the same as his.

I used to try and try Mike's way. But put this in your hat—you can't copy a punch. Every fighter has to work out his own style and system.

I hated to break away from Mike's mannerisms in the ring. He had taught me so much. He is so graceful, so perfect in his workmanship.

But I would never have developed into a knockout fighter if I hadn't. I'd have been just a counterfeit of Mike.

Science

A year ago I had a talk with Mike.

EDDIE KANE—MANAGER AND CORNER SECOND OF TOMMY GIBBONS.

We figured it out from the scientific standpoint.

I used to miss him a lot. But it has worked out for the best.

Fighting my own way I can punch and knock them out. The Chastain fight before I changed I was just a couple of Mike—a counterfeit of a man whom I think is one of the cleverest boxers that ever drew on a glove.

Instead of just being a brother of the famous Mike Gibbons I have developed a ring individuality of my own.

LELAND STANFORD STARS

MAKE CLEANUP

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—After banking for every ball across college and club courts from coast to coast during the last four months, the Leland Stanford university team, composed of Phil Neer and J. M. Davies is about ready to hang up its racquets for the season.

Each has played in 153 matches since leaving college on May 15. No stiffer competitive tennis campaign has been made by any players within the knowledge of close followers of the court game.

Only two tournaments remain before they will start for the west again, those of the Crescent A.C. at Pacific coast conference. Near having won the former title tournament and the national singles championship at Philadelphia beginning September 10. Neer is playing in the national mixed doubles championship tournament here.

The youthful tennis stars—neither is past his 21st year—have carried their university to the championship of the intercollegiate association and of the Pacific coast conference. Near having won the former title tournament and Davies the latter, in 14 matches with college teams, the two-man combination of Leland Stanford won every time.

It has been a long season and a hard one, but each said today that he hoped to be able to make the trip again next year.

TENNIS FOR EVERYONE AT LONGWOOD CLUB

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—There was tennis for everyone on the courts of the Longwood Cricket club today, man and boy, old-timer and novice, had their respective championship tournaments, and women got into the racket action both in a tournament of their own and paired with men in the national mixed doubles championship.

The national men's doubles competition, in its third round and with semifinalists to be determined, attracted principal interest. The matches set for late afternoon on the Chastain Hill courts were: W. J. Johnston and W. J. Hutchison vs. C. W. Sanders, St. Paul; R. N. Williams, Boston and W. M. Washburn, New York vs. S. H. Voshell and Samuel Hardy, New York vs. L. E. Williams, Chicago and F. E. Bastian, Indianapolis; A. Kinney and Kinsey, San Francisco, vs. H. Bundy and R. Dell, Boston. The title lies solely with American teams, as the three British combinations entered were beaten yesterday.

At Chastain Hill also the national mixed doubles title tournament was continued, the national veterans doubles championship contested, and the national father and son doubles play resumed.

The older courts at Longwood were given over this forenoon to the women's invitation singles, and the national boys and juniors singles and doubles tournaments.

MAJOR LEAGUE RECORD EQUALLED YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The major league record of 25 hits in a nine-inning game was equaled by the Washington and Detroit clubs yesterday. The Senators, in view of the strike the Pirates Tiger infielders 11. The Brooklyn and Cincinnati clubs had a total of 20 assists for their infielders in ten innings yesterday, of which 27 were made in the first nine innings.

Three assists were credited to Left Fielder Muesel of the New York Nationals. The record for outfielders is four.

PIRATES MAKE TENTATIVE PLANS FOR SERIES

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24.—Tentative plans have been made by the Pirates of the Pittsburgh National club to erect additional grandstands at Forbes field here to seat 10,000 persons. In view of the strike the Pirates are making towards capturing the National league pennant. It is proposed, provided the city grants permission, to raise 20 rows of seats in left and center fields which will increase the seating capacity of the field to 35,000 persons.

However, no architect will be called in until club officials feel that the Pirates practically have the pennant in their possession. It was said, but just when the owners believe that will be, no one cared to say.

SOUTH ENDS WIN

Boland & Canney's South Ends defeated the Lowell Lodge of Elks 6 to 2, in a fine game of baseball played last night on the South common. There was a fair crowd on hand and they witnessed much good baseball. The winning battery consisted of Harrington and Linton, while Mangin and Boland upheld the honors for the Elks.

SAYS NEW ERA IS DAWNING

Crissinger Says Effects of Disarmament Conference Will be "Miraculous"

Coming Upon Time of Definite, Specific Measures of World Reorganization

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 24.—Effects of the coming disarmament conference upon business and industrial problems will be "little less than miraculous" if the assembly is viewed from the proper frame of mind by the American people, Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger declared in an address today before the Cotton States Merchants' association in convention here.

"We are coming," Mr. Crissinger said, "upon the time of definite, specific measures of world reorganization. We have passed the era of inspiration, and are getting down to business. Within the next two months we will meet in Washington what we all earnestly hope will be the most important international conference the world has ever known, a conference inspired by the hope of a man betterment and at the same time tempered by the recognition that cold realities must be given their proper weight and proportion."

"We are not going to make a Utopia of this world by any process of treaty and covenant," Crissinger said, "but we are going to make a world in which the forces of evil are being met by the forces of good, and in which the forces of evil are being met by the forces of good, and in which the forces of evil are being met by the forces of good."

MOTHER JONES OFF FOR MARMET

To Address Miners in Camp as Protest Against Martial Law

Officials Recognize the Gravity of Situation and Prepare to Resist Advance

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 24.—Mother Jones, well known as a leader among the miners, left here this morning for Marmet, where some 3000 miners have been in camp several days as a protest against the maintenance of martial law in the Mingo county coal field. Mother Jones was to address the miners, who have moved their camp five miles from the original site to what was described as a more comfortable location.

While recognizing the gravity of the situation occasioned by the presence of so large a body of men within striking distance of the capital, public officials and leading citizens here expressed the opinion that under proper leadership the incident would be closed without serious results.

It was recognized, however, that the situation still contained elements of danger, particularly if the original program was carried out and the men took up the march through Boone and Logan counties to Mingo. There was no force in Boone county to bar their way, officials said, but the sheriff of Logan county had announced that they would not be allowed to pass its boundary line, and it was known that he had under him a considerable force of trained deputies.

Here in Charleston the city police force, with Sheriff Walker's deputies and a small detachment of state police, were looking upon the situation with some concern, but they were confident that they could protect the city in existing circumstances. There was no evidence at the capital today that federal troops were expected to enter the city.

The mystery surrounding the movement of these mountaineers was enhanced last night and this morning when careful inquiries failed entirely to locate the leader.

The men have a clearly defined program. It has not been allowed to reach the public, while labor leaders usually in touch with all movements in the state profess ignorance as to the real purpose of the gathering, other than that it was originally intended to march into Mingo. In some quarters here it was predicted that unless the march was taken up today or tomorrow the movement would probably be abandoned.

BACK DOWN BY PANAMA

Yields to U. S. and Will Not Resist Occupation of Disputed Territory

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Panama will not resist the occupation of the disputed territory of Coto by Costa Rica, the American minister at Panama yesterday cabled the state department. The decision of the government of Panama, the American minister advised the department, was made known after presentation of a new note from the American government stating clearly that the United States would not countenance any hostilities growing out of the occupation which this government had held to be justified under the Loubet and White awards.

The American minister also informed the department that the government of Panama, through its foreign minister, had assured him the police sent into the Coto district would be withdrawn prior to Costa Rica occupation.

These assurances of Panama were regarded by state department officials generally as forecasting a complete and final settlement of the entire controversy in a peaceful manner. Secretary Hughes interpreted the developments as completely dissipating any possibility of hostilities between the two countries incident to the occupation.

A battalion of American marines en route to Central America, aboard the battleship Pennsylvania, will continue in accordance with orders, it was understood, but officials said there was practically no possibility of their being landed.

Order of Evacuation
PANAMA, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Coto has been ordered evacuated by the civilian authorities so that the Costa Ricans on their arrival there will find no Panamanian government representatives. Ricardo Alfaro, secretary of government and justice, made this announcement yesterday afternoon.

The order will not reach Coto before Friday, as, owing to interruption of telephone communication between David and Coto, it will have to be transmitted by courier.

The order of evacuation is the immediate result of the last note of Secretary Hughes to Panama, saying that the United States would not allow a resumption of hostilities. Senator Alfaro says an answer to the note of Mr. Hughes will be forwarded to Washington tomorrow.

Although the Panamanian government has notified the state department at Washington that no resistance will be offered the Costa Ricans occupying the disputed territory, and Coto, Narciso Garay, the Panamanian foreign minister, who is now in Washington, has been ordered to leave there immediately to file a protest with the state department.

Continued
The possession of federal authorities, Government agents have also recovered a million and a half dollars worth of doubtful notes and have made eight arrests.

Alva Harshman, for the last six years French's secretary, confessed yesterday to John V. Clinan, assistant United States district attorney, regarding the band's activities. Mr. Clinan said. He was released in $5000 bonds, and is expected to be a star witness for the government.

Another alleged statement of the band's activities came from Rudolph Kohn, head of the American Rubber company, a Chicago concern. French was arrested some time ago in connection with the activities of John V. Worthington, alleged head of a group engaged in disposing of securities obtained in mail robberies. French is held here under $25,000 bonds.

Decision French and Worthington, both of whom are under arrest, Harshman, in his alleged confession implicated a number of others. C. K. Stohel, Akron, Ohio, real estate man; Elmer Gerber, of Cleveland, and A. E. Strelein, of Milwaukee, were yesterday taken into custody in those cities as agents of French. Today federal officials were said to be hurrying to Washington to question the cashier of the bank there. He was said to be involved in the operations of the swindlers.

"I don't know where this will end," Mr. Clinan said. "The whole affair is almost too big to grasp—I doubt if even French could tell its ramifications easily."

LEAVE FOR MEXICO CITY

Four American Oil Men Off for Conference With Mexican Government Officials

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Four members of a delegation of American oil men who are to take up directly with the Mexican government the differences arising out of the Mexican taxes on oil exports planned to leave here today for Mexico City.

They are Walter C. Tagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey; J. W. Van Dyke of the Atlantic Refining company; H. P. Sinclair of Sinclair Consolidated and Amos L. Fluty of the Texas company. Edward J. Doherty, the other member of the committee, representing Mexican Petroleum interests, plans to leave Los Angeles later in the week and will join the party in the Mexican capital.

Protest against the proposed conference, which has the sanction of government officials at Washington, was voiced last night by the American Association of Mexico, an organization formed to represent the interests of land owners and many other Americans who formerly resided in Mexico. The association sent telegrams to Secretary of State Hughes and the president of Mexico arguing that any conference entered into should attempt to settle difficulties between the two countries rather than limit itself to the oil issue.

Seeks Early Ratification

The president, it was stated, hopes for ratification of the pact at an early date. It was explained, however, that he would not ask the senate to forgo the thirty day recess, set to begin tonight, inasmuch as it was desired that the German Reichstag and the senate consider the treaty at the same time and the German legislative body does not convene until September 30.

Republican members of the senate committee attending the conference today, but it was learned that it is a comparatively short document.

The official statement with respect to the conference as made at the White House emphasized that the treaty was primarily a peace treaty and that its ratification would be followed by a treaty of commerce and amity.

PHONE OFFICIAL HAD TO KEEP ON GUARD

SAYS HE WAS SUBJECT TO TERRIBLE ATTACKS OF DIZZINESS AND INDIGESTION

"Nobody can be around me long without hearing what I've got to say about Tanlae. It is certainly great," said Henry D. Carpenter, 17 Pinner place, Springfield, Mass., recently. Mr. Carpenter is a business engineer in the Springfield territory for the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co.

"Before I got hold of Tanlae I had been bothered with stomach trouble for five years and was worrying along, getting worse in spite of all I could do. I was subject to terrible attacks of indigestion and at times turned at most deathly sick. The gas on my stomach was awful and I would have the worst sort of pains. I was troubled constantly with constipation and had headaches that simply took the life out of me. The dizzy spells would strike me two and three times a day and I had to keep on my guard all the time. I was run down all over and felt weak and no account from morning till night."

"But I know what good health means now and I have Tanlae to thank for it. Three bottles of all I have taken but that's all I need for I am feeling fine. My appetite has come back in full force and I eat like I never had stomach trouble. I sleep fine and am no longer constipated. In fact, I haven't felt so strong and well in years and from now on I am going to always keep a bottle of Tanlae in my house. Nothing will ever shake my faith in it."

Tanlae is sold in Lowell by Green's drug store under the personal direction of a special Tanlae representative; by Wright Drug Co., Haverhill, Mass.; A. D. Sales, Chelmsford, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

PROF. KARLIN DROPPED

Action Follows Criticism in Connection With Trial of Negroes Implicated in Riots

LYNCHBURG, Va., Aug. 24.—Copies of resolutions of the board of visitors of Virginia military institute dismissing Professor Robert T. Karlin from the institute because of an open letter addressed by him to the governor of Arkansas "justifying upon the administration of justice a state of emergency in connection with the trial of negroes implicated in the Elaine riots, were made public here yesterday by Professor Karlin.

Professor Karlin disclosed that he was given an opportunity to defend his course before the board in Lynchburg last Saturday and his refusal at that time to rescind caused the board to declare his connection with the institute "immediately terminated."

The board declared in its resolution that Professor Karlin's activities in inter-racial matters "had rendered his further connection with the Virginia military institute undesirable and his retention in the professorship harmful and detrimental thereto and embarrassing to those responsible for its conduct and management."

The prisoners are Hattie and Joseph Kasorski.

INSTITUTE OF POLITICS

Norman H. Davis, former Under Secretary of State

Talks on "Reparations"

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 24.—"It is idle to talk of the economic rehabilitation of Europe until political stability has been achieved," Norman H. Davis, former under secretary of state, asserted at the Institute of Politics today when he made his formal address to the round table conference on "Reparations." Uncertainty about reparations continues, he said, at the heart of the world's present difficulties.

If the political difficulties of Europe adjust themselves so that this problem can be solved the rest will be easy. What is needed now is political agreement. All financial and commercial projects in Europe are being held up by this uncertainty. Throughout the history of the world the development of commerce and industry has always followed political stability, and indeed, he continued, "it can never follow upon anything else."

"We have all learned that our own welfare is pretty closely tied up with the restoration of normal financial and commercial conditions in Europe. Much as we might like to avoid concern in the political tangles across the seas, I am convinced that it will in practice prove impossible to separate them. Our present financial condition is very largely due to the inability to rest of the world to find money to buy our goods. But it is idle to talk of the economic rehabilitation of Europe until political stability has been achieved."

along Suffolk street in the company of two soldiers. Foul language was being used, according to the officer, who sought to take Dalton into custody after the latter addressed him in an opprobrious manner upon being advised to go home. When one handcuff had been put on, according to Officer Goggin, he was kicked in the groin by Dalton and became semi-conscious as the latter ran away. Louis Pappas, who was seated at a sidewalk table of a nearby coffee house, corroborated the officer's testimony. He saw Dalton kicking Goggin, he said, and Goggin said that Dalton asserted that he came back to Lowell to kill him.

There were three complaints against the defendant, who was charged with drunkenness and assault on Saturday, and with drunkenness on the 23rd, when he was taken into custody. He was found guilty on all counts, but the drunkenness complaints were placed on file. According to court records, Dalton was in during 1919 for assault on an officer.

USE NEW METHOD FOR DEFENDING MATE REPAIRING STREETS

A new method of filling in holes in Lowell streets which is proving much more satisfactory than the old method of using crushed stone is being employed under the direction of Henry J. Bowers, superintendent of streets. The new method consists of filling in holes with a tar cold patch instead of dumping crushed stone in the cavity. The tar is proving a much more permanent filler. When the old method was used, the passing of a few vehicles over the part of the street that had been filled in would result in the scattering of the stones in every direction.

The idea of the cold patch is not original here but it had not been extensively used in patching work until Mr. Bowers became superintendent of streets. Within the past few weeks it has been employed in Concord street, School street, Lilley avenue, Whittier and in many other thoroughfares. Patching gangs are constantly at work in all sections of the city.

START SEASON'S SECOND BIG PAVING JOB

The second big paving job of the present season has just been started by the street department. Workmen have begun to tear up Chelmsford street between Westford and Grand streets preparatory to the laying of smooth pavement there. The Thorn-dike street job which was started early in the summer is practically completed, according to Supt. Henry J. Bowers, and within a day or two the pavers will transfer their attention to Chelmsford street. It is planned to lay 1000 square yards of smooth paving in the latter thoroughfare.

The dead are Douglas Armstrong, engineer, Grand Junction, and a man named Fairfield, believed to be a resident of California.

REFERENDUM ON MOVIE CENSORSHIP

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The question of motion picture censorship in Massachusetts will be decided by the voters at the state election in 1922. Yesterday the Allied Theatres' association filed 50,000 names of qualified voters with the secretary of state for a referendum. The requisite number is 15,000. After checking off about 15,000 names the secretary's office decided that there was nothing to prevent the question from being placed on the ballot next year.

This year's legislature passed a bill to provide for a motion picture censorship, beginning January 1, 1922. The filing of the referendum petition prevents the law from becoming operative until it has been acted upon by the voters.

Joseph J. Glancy, representing the motion picture interests carried the names of the state house yesterday.

election for Oct. 18. As far as the mayor is aware, there is no pressing business which the council must attend to before a week from tomorrow.

Chairman Hugh C. McOsker of the board of election commissioners when queried on the matter this morning, said that the date of the election was immaterial as it is up to the municipal council to say when the election will be held. The commission will simply follow the instructions it receives from "upstairs," as Mr. McOsker put it.

Probably the strongest opponents of the double election plan will be the city precinct officers. By combining both elections these officers will receive but one day's pay, whereas if separate elections were held they would be entitled to compensation for two days. Incidentally, the point can be made that if we had municipal elections this year would be particularly frugal for the precinct officials inasmuch as there will be no state primaries and no state election.

In 1920 there were five elections—the presidential primaries in April, the state primaries in September, state election and municipal elections in November, and city election in December. This year it looks as though there would be but four—the paving election which was held this month, the combined gas and charter election due in October, and the city primaries and city election which will come in November and December.

Plain Ballot in September

to wit: To prevent the railroads from asking for further decreased wages following the 12 1/2 per cent. reduction handed down by the railroad labor board at Chicago June 1, and now in effect. It is understood that the ballot tells the union members of the unsatisfactory situation held in the past few months between brotherhood chiefs and railroad managers, who it is claimed, are seeking to eliminate time and a half for overtime, and the union men are asked if they are satisfied to continue work under these conditions.

It is expected that special meetings of all the Lowell locals will be held in the early part of September for the purpose of voting and inasmuch as the employees of the Billerica carshops are also entitled to vote on the matter, it is expected that several thousand ballots will be cast. The marked ballots will be sealed in envelopes and sent to headquarters at Cincinnati, O., which means that the result of the voting will not be known for several days after the special meetings.

SPITE SUIT

MR. AND MRS. H. J. TOUSSAINT

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, Aug. 24.—Henry John Toussaint shot and killed his father, formerly a Washington, D. C. hotelkeeper, in Wichita Falls, a month before, he had sued his wife for divorce.

And yet this wife rushed to his assistance when he was brought to trial for murder.

Toussaint confessed the killing, entering a plea of insanity. His wife took the stand on her own accord and testified that she honestly and sincerely believed that her husband was insane at the time.

Her pleading, however, accomplished nothing. Toussaint was sentenced to be hanged—the first white man to draw the death penalty in the history of Wichita county.

GOMPERS WOULD APPEAL CHILD LABOR RULING

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 24.—A statement urging congress to rectify what was described as the wrong done by the decision of Federal Judge James M. Boyd Monday at Greensboro, N. C., in declaring the Owen-Keating child labor law unconstitutional, was made public here yesterday by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

"The decision should be appealed to the highest court of our land," said the statement, "and it is to be strongly hoped that the United States supreme court will remove the blamish which Judge Boyd has put upon the judiciary of our land and prevent the judiciary of our land from falling into grasping and greedy hands of exploiters, and from grinding their bones into profits."

The statement, which was given out by Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, said that organized labor "cannot help but enter its protest, not only against the unwarrantable intervention by the judiciary of the rights of congress in expressing the will of the people, but in this special instance against legislation which every intelligent, patriotic and humanely loving citizen holds to be justifiable and essential."

"Nowhere in the constitution of the United States is there vested in the judiciary the right to declare unconstitutional a law passed by the congress of the United States and approved by the president, or if vetoed by the president, passed over his veto by a two-thirds vote of the house and senate."

"Some day, and may it be soon, the people and the citizenship of our country will demand from congress, and congress will heed the mandate, to restore the sovereign rights of the congress of the United States to enact legislation and deny to the judicial branch of the government the right to annul or violate legislation for the protection of the rights and interests and the promotion of the welfare of the people of our country."

The council also asked that steps be taken "to bring the judiciary within the folds of its component and not dominating, part of the government of our republic."

LIQUOR SHIPMENTS CANNOT BE STOPPED

DETROIT, Aug. 24.—United States District Judge Tuttle here yesterday made permanent temporary injunction granted two weeks ago restraining United States customs and internal revenue officials from interfering with shipments of whiskey from Canada through the United States to destinations in foreign countries.

The case was brought by Hiram Walker & Sons, Ltd., after customs officials in Detroit had seized a shipment of liquor shipped through this port en route to Mexico.

The case will be appealed to the United States supreme court in behalf of the government. It was announced, Judge Tuttle's decision rests upon the theory that the Volstead amendment does not abrogate rights granted Canadian manufacturers by the trade treaty between the United States and Great Britain of July 1, 1871.

"Round-up" on So. Common

Miller was knocked out by the dose. His case was filed by the court.

Six other men were arrested at the same time by Officer James H. Boyle, who made a general round-up on the South common yesterday afternoon. Finding a couple of men stretched out there, apparently under the influence of liquor, he called the patrol and sent on in all were bundled in, and the wagon making a tour of the pleasure spot. Besides Miller, one other defendant had his case filed. The five others were less fortunate. Frank Clark, in for the second time within a year, drew one month. Thomas Tooley, also a second offender, got the same, but was allowed a suspension of sentence. John F. Murphy, a third offender, who got out of the house of correction last Wednesday, drew a suspended sentence to the state farm.

According to the records of the circulation officer, Murphy has been before the court seventy-one times in all.

Edward Carey was freed on condition that he leave Lowell at once. He hails from Laconia, N. H. George Reagan drew one month. He appealed, but decided to accept his sentence. He pleaded not guilty, and denied taking a single drink yesterday. He was asked if he remembered being in once before before during the present month, and also during February. He recalled the former instance, but couldn't remember the February misfortune, he said. "I don't keep much track of these matters," he remarked. He has been in 16 times in all, according to the probation officer. "Were you sent to the hospital on one occasion after drinking wood alcohol?" he was asked. "Well, yes, I did fall one time," he returned.

Roger Kiley made his bow for the second time within a few days. He came here a short time ago from Manchester, N. H., with a roll of $120, the police said, and on pleasure bent. He got the pleasure, but was before the court August 22. It is alleged, and announced that he had only $45 left of the original $120. His case was filed, and he was strongly urged to leave Lowell while still in possession of a section of his funds. He agreed to heed this advice, but turned up again this morning, practically penniless. He got a four months' sentence, suspended on condition that he leave the city within 24 hours.

TWO WOMEN FACE INTOXICATION CHARGES

Two women were among the alleged drunks in the district court this morning. One, who has been in the toils of the law many a time and oft before, it is claimed, drew a three months' suspended sentence, while her companion had her case placed on file as a first offender. Both women were engaged in hostilities when taken into custody, according to Officer William L. Keegan, who made the arrests.
